Voluntary Price Control Bill Goes To President After House Passage

Kramer to Become City Clerk Under Newkirk January 1

His Appointment Is Second to Be Made by New Mayor-Elect; Was Army Officer

BERNHARDT S. KRAMER

Bernhardt S. Kramer of 203 Washington avenue will become city clerk under Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk when he assumes office January 1, it was announced today.

This is the second member of the official family of Mayor-elect Newkirk to be announced, the other being the appointment of James G. Connelly, who will become corporation counsel when Mr. Newkirk takes over the city administration.

Kramer attended Kingston grade schools and was graduated from Kingston High School with the class of 1930. He attended St. John's College where he majored in social science including government. He was graduated from St. John's University, School of Law in 1935. For a time he was associated with the district attorney's office and the county judge's office in charge of the District Permit Bureau. Shortly after Pearl Harbor he enlisted in the armed forces. He attended and was graduated from the O.C.S. at Camp Barkeley, Texas, and on receiving his commission he became plans and operations officer for the post surgeon at Fort Knox, Kentucky and commanding officer of the 1550th S.C.U. Medical Section at the same camp. He served throughout the war and was separated from the army after three years and 21 months of service and at present holds the rank of 1st lieutenant, Medical Administrative Corps, Army Reserve Corps.

Bernhardt S. Kramer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Kramer of 35 Emerson street, Kingston. He resides at 203 Washington avenue with his wife, the former Caryl Hess of New York.

Mr. Kramer is a member of the executive committee of the American Legion, Post No. 130, of Kingston and E. Paul Brith. He attends the Congregation of Temple Emanuel in Kingston.

Radio Group To Talk About Petrillo Meeting

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—A joint committee representing the radio, television and recording industries meets here today (2 p. m.) to draft plans for a common front in dealings with James C. Petrillo and his American Federation of Musicians.

The session will be closed as have been previous preliminary meetings by sub-groups, and it has not been decided whether any agreement reached will be disclosed.

Among the things to be considered will be the A.F.L. Musicians' Union statement that its members "never again" will make records or transcriptions after the present contract expires Dec. 31; the union's contract with the radio networks that runs out January 31; the ban on duplication of musical programs over both standard and frequency modulation stations; and the union's refusal to permit its members to perform for television.

Democrats Concede Measure Will Pass by Nightfall; Smith Says Act 'Piece of Shadow-Boxing'

Washington, Dec. 19 (AP)—The House sent to President Truman without change today the Senate-passed bill for voluntary pricing agreements to hold down living costs.

Washington, Dec. 19 (AP)—Final passage of the Republican-sponsored voluntary price curb bill was virtually assured today when the House ordered it considered immediately under procedure restricting amendments and limiting debate.

House approval is expected to head the legislation toward President Truman's desk by nightfall as the Senate passed the bill late yesterday by a 77 to 10 vote.

Only one hour of debate was permitted by the House under procedure which Democrats condemned as "super-gag."

Standard Brands To Discontinue Its Service to Stores

Route Salesmen to Keep Employment in Other Capacities, Is Report

Standard Brands, Incorporated, will discontinue truck service to retail stores from its Poughkeepsie office on Monday, Sam Harden, grocery manager, said today. At that time a new system will be inaugurated, whereby local retailers will receive their supplies either from the Albany office or through local distributors, Harden said.

The new arrangements will be made with Kingston and area retailers by representatives of the corporation, who will call on each store now being supplied by the Poughkeepsie office, Harden said. The products which are handled by Standard Brands include Cheff's Cheese, Tenderloin, tea, Chase & Sanborn coffee, Fleischmann's yeast, Blue Bonnet margarine, and V-8 Cocktail, chili sauce and catsup.

Route salesmen now employed by the Poughkeepsie office have received notice of termination of their employment, Harden said, but will be retained on the payroll until about February 1. In the meantime, other positions may be found for the men on the staff of Standard Brands, he added. Among the route salesmen affected will be Frank Van Etten, Jr., of 156 Wall street, Kingston.

D. C. Scott Dies

Ottawa, Dec. 19 (AP)—Duncan Campbell Scott, 86, generally regarded as the uncrowned poet laureate of Canada, died at his Ottawa home today. He was actively engaged in writing almost up to the time of his death. His last book, "The Circle of Affection," was published last spring.

Boys Die in Woods

Hepworth, Ont., Dec. 19 (AP)—Robert Cohen, 13, and his brother, Donald, 7, went out Wednesday for their school teacher. A search party found the boys this morning, dead of exposure. There won't be any Christmas party at the school.

Tobey Says Only Alternative To Voluntary Plan Is Ration

Washington, Dec. 19 (AP)—The public, the government and the petroleum industry today were asked to join forces in a voluntary program to "stretch out" the critically short supplies of fuel oil in many parts of the nation.

Senator Tobey (R-N.H.) declared the "only alternative to a voluntary plan is manifestly compulsory controls." He said neither the public, the industry nor the government wanted this.

Tobey is chairman of a Senate Commerce Subcommittee which yesterday received a report from a special industry committee recommending that householders cut their fuel consumption by 15 per cent.

A separate report released by a Senate Small Business Committee also called for public conservation measures, but it sounded a different note in saying that:

"The continued concentration of control of the oil industry from reserves in the ground down through to the tank wagon or filling station sale to the consumer, in the hands of a few integrated companies presents a real challenge to American ideals of free enterprise and the prevention of small business."

The Small Business Group, headed by Senator Wherry (R-Nebr.), suggested avoidance of fuel waste curtailment of "unnecessary driving" and recommended that:

"Needed steel products are made available to the domestic oil industry; all ocean-going tankers be placed in service 'with the least possible delay'; tanker sales to be continued on Page Five

U.S. Embassy Loses $50,000 Due to Revalued Ruble

State Department Rules Ensnare Moscow Staff; Could Not Have Bank Account

Moscow, Dec. 19 (AP)—The U. S. Embassy estimated today it lost about $50,000 through Russia's revaluation of the ruble, and a spokesman indicated it might take special action by Congress to keep the embassy going on its present basis.

The embassy was caught in a snare because of the State Department's own rules, a spokesman said. Theoretically, under State Department regulations, an embassy officer could be held responsible for the entire $50,000 loss, he said, explaining:

The State Department rules said no embassy could keep more than $100 on hand, and that an officer would be responsible for any loss incurred in violation of the edict. But the embassy, of necessity, had to keep thousands of dollars in cash on hand.

The embassy could not keep a bank account. The comptroller general does not allow U. S. representatives abroad to pay the cost of such accounts, the spokesman added.

When revaluation came, the embassy still had a large amount of the old ruble currency on hand, despite frantic attempts to get rid of it as fast as possible by paying up bills.

Russia is paying off only one new ruble for 10 old rubles presented for cash exchange.

The embassy would have fared better had it been permitted to keep a bank account. The bank accounts of other foreign missions exchanged one old for one new ruble within certain limits.

The embassy is operating under congressional appropriations voted a year in advance. This gives little opportunity to the embassy to get sufficient money together to keep the establishment on its present basis. Congress, thus, may have to act.

In addition, the embassy is facing increased expenses because of Russia's change in the diplomatic exchange rate from 12 rubles to the dollar to eight to the dollar.

Meanwhile, Russian police cracked down on speculators. The newspaper Moscow Bolshevik said prosecutors had arrested a number of persons who were reselling boots and galoshes at high prices on the open market.

Rules Pinch Hitter Out Of Place in His Court

Cleveland, Dec. 19 (AP)—Pinch hitters are all right on a baseball diamond but they're out of place in a court of law, Commor Pleas Judge Charles J. McNamara has ruled.

The ruling was made as the judge yesterday ordered a retrial for Wallace Lee, 24, who is charged with robbing a cab driver of $14.

During Lee's trials last March, his attorney, Stephen Young, replaced him with a stand-in, the cab driver was asked to identify his assailant.

And three times the driver, Frank Hodges, 40, said he thought the stand-in robbed him.

Said Judge McNamara:

"Defendants may not resort to the expedient of replacement and less and butlerless today to fill the 'Yankee Friends Ship' bound for Scotland. The sacrifice will add about 1,500 pounds of wheat and 300 pounds of butter to the ship's cargo.

Macy Is Named

Washington, Dec. 19 (AP)—Rep. Macy (R-N.Y.) was named today to chairmanship of a House subcommittee to investigate the high price of steel and other materials used in public works. Macy, named by Rep. Dondero (R-Mich.) chairman of the House Public Works Committee, offered the resolution to authorize the investigation. Named to serve with him are Reps. Muhlengberg (R-Pa.), Coffin (R-Mich.), Boykin (D-Ala.) and Whittington (D-Miss.).

Help for Hungry

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 19 (AP)—Harvard students went breadless and butterless today to help fill the "Yankee Friends Ship" bound for Scotland. The sacrifice will add about 1,500 pounds of wheat and 300 pounds of butter to the ship's cargo.

May Call For Vote of Confidence

De Gasperi Confronted by Swelling Labor Strife Convulsing All Italy

Red Blames U. S.

Violence Flares Among Crowds and on Floor of Assembly

By FRANK BRUTTO

Rome, Dec. 19 (AP)—Galled by a continuous barrage of criticism from the far left, Premier Alcide de Gasperi was expected today to ask the constituent assembly for a new vote of confidence as a swelling wave of labor strife convulsed Italy.

Violence flared up both on the assembly floor and on the labor front last night, and the country faced its second nationwide strike in a month—that of 300,000 foodhandlers—whose walkout was scheduled to begin tomorrow.

In Palermo, the first city of Sicily, 10 persons were reported to have been wounded in a gun battle before the city hall. Dispatches said the melee occurred after a general strike in Palermo had ended, when 3,000 strikers tried to invade the city hall.

On the assembly floor, Italian Communist leader Palmiro Togliatti accused the government of "subservience and complete obedience" to the United States and then turned on the Republicans, who earlier this week joined the middle-of-the-road de Gasperi cabinet, from which Communists were purged last May.

"You are dragging in the mud the banners of a party which had glorious national traditions," he cried.

Pitched Battles

Giuseppe Chiostero, 59, a member of the Republican party, charged out of his seat, swinging his fists at a Communist. Other deputies pitched into the fight and Umberto Terracini, the Communist speaker, recessed the session for 30 minutes to end the fracas and permit tempers to cool.

Foreign Minister Carlo Sforza then rose to give part of the government's answer to Togliatti's charge, an answer which de Gasperi is expected to complete before asking a new confidence vote.

Won't Take Dictation

"We are aiming," Sforza said, "at a United Europe and it is clear that United Europe will not obey any country."

The foodhandlers strike, involving workers in food and candy plants, stores, distilleries and mills, threatened to deprive many Italians of Christmas treats. Bakers, milk distributors and ice handlers are exempted from the strike call, which was blamed on a breakdown in negotiations for a new contract.

General strikes in Palermo and Catania ended yesterday, but there were threats of new strikes in Syracuse, Agrigento and Trapani, all in Sicily, and a general strike was called in Messina, Sicily, and Catanzarotta. All were for pay bonuses not received.

Miners Strike

A miners' strike at Castelnuovo dei Sabbioni, near Florence, continued. Three thousand workers there were protesting the dismissal of 1,500 others.

The newspaper Momento-Sera said trains from Pescara, on the Adriatic coast, arrived late in Rome because workers at Ravenna sat on the tracks. Police removed them but the trains lost more time by similar actions at Mandela and Vicovaro.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, Dec. 19 (AP)—The position of the treasury December 17: Receipts, $341,287,305.86; expenditures, $350,432,457.34; balance, $2,505,820,099.49. Customs receipts for month, $22,468,273.13; receipts fiscal year July 1, $17,295,230,878.71; expenditures fiscal year, $16,338,208,683.39; excess of receipts, $957,022,195.32; total debt, $257,047,178,839.90; decrease under previous day, $111,448,680.39; gold assets, $22,723,488,473.46.

Ten Arabs Die in Attack By Jews in Galilee Village

Verdict Delayed In Dancer's Trial

Trial of Patricia Schmidt on Manslaughter Ends Today

Havana, Dec. 19 (AP)—The manslaughter trial of Patricia (Sandra) Schmidt, who is accused of the yacht shooting of John Lester Mee, Chicago naval veteran, ended at 11 a. m. today.

The verdict is not expected for several days.

Following a half hour of concluding argument by the defense attorney, the Audiencia court adjourned and Patricia left the room in tears. She walked to an automobile between spectators who murmured good luck wishes to her.

She addressed the court for a few seconds in her own behalf before the adjournment, saying she hoped the court would not treat her as a common criminal. She thanked the three judges for giving her a fair trial.

When the closed court convened today Patricia, fearful of a prison sentence, which she said would be "worse than death," went nervously into the chamber to hear her lawyer finish his summation.

The trial began three months and two days ago and had been delayed eight times. Private prosecutors retained by Dr. Lester E. Mee of Wilmette, Ill., demanded a 30-year term on a murder accusation, but the public prosecutor asked a conviction for manslaughter.

Official Say Two Cars of Jews Threw Bombs; Houses Destroyed

Jerusalem, Dec. 19 (AP)—Ten Arabs, including five children, were reported killed and five others were injured by bombs and gunfire today in a Jewish attack on the village of Khisas, in Upper Galilee.

An official report said two cars of Jews drove into the village in darkness, threw a number of bombs and opened fire. Two houses were destroyed.

A police patrol found seven bodies in the ruins of one of the houses and three in the other.

Two Syrians and two Lebanese Arabs were listed among the casualties.

Jewish sources said Hagana, the Jewish underground militia, made the attack because the village was being used as a hideout for infiltrating volunteers of Fawzi Kaukuli's Arab "Save Palestine" army. Arab sources have said this army was moving 2,000 guerrilla fighters to join Palestine Arab forces near Nabulus.

The village of Khisas is only two miles from the point where the Palestine, Syrian and Lebanese borders meet. It is near the route between Jerusalem and Damascus, where Arab forces have been reported training for the fight against the partition of Palestine.

Other violence developed elsewhere in the Holy Land.

The death toll since the United Nations decided Nov. 29 to partition the area rose to 279.

The toll in all the Middle East reached 400.

Hagana fighters stormed shall.

He Defends Bill to Bar U.S. Activity

Vandenberg Promises Full Inquiry Into Matter by Foreign Relations Unit

China to Get Aid

Sum of $20,000,000 Is Marked for Chinese Assistance

Washington, Dec. 19 (AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) said today he would favor blowing up German industrial plants rather than permit them to be dismantled and fall into Russia's hands.

"I am not so damned stupid that I want to send them to Russia," Bridges shouted in the Senate. "I'd blow them up instead."

Bridges, chairman of the Senate Appropriations committee, defended a provision of a money bill which would bar American participation in such dismantling operations.

He took the floor after Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) told the Senate that the State Department is seeking agreement with Great Britain to halt the "tag end" of the dismantling of German plants and their shipment to Russia and its satellites.

Vandenberg said he agrees with the objective of the bill's provision but does not favor such "shotgun" methods of accomplishing it.

Vandenberg promised a full inquiry into the matter by his Foreign Relations committee as the Senate approved appropriations of $568,000,000 in emergency foreign aid, including $18,000,000 for China. Other items in the appropriation bill containing the foreign aid funds remain for consideration, however, prior to a final vote on passage of the omnibus measure.

Of the amount voted by the Senate, $550,000,000 will go to France, Italy and Austria. This compared with $597,000,000 asked for the administration, for those countries and with $509,000,000 voted yesterday by the House.

The House measure did not include any fund for China. Upon passage, the Senate action on foreign relief must be reconciled in conference with the House appropriations.

With both Houses aiming at adjournment by nightfall, the Senate was called into session at 11 o'clock last night, the bill lapsed $50,000,000 for the three European nations as compared with $597,000,000 asked by the administration.

The additional 20,000,000 for China was the only portion earmarked for any country.

Chairman Bridges (R-N. H.) said "State Department officials had agreed with the committee that supplies needed for France, Italy and Austria could be bought for about $25,000,000 less than the amount originally asked, leaving an actual cut of only around $22,000,000."

Bridges said provision was made for China, on the side, because "it's important to us to keep the Chinese Nationalist government going."

He added that Congress may increase the amount after the State Department produces a China relief program early in 1948, as officials have said they plan to do.

The appropriations bill brought out by the Senate committee carried a grand total of $1,031,246,300 including funds for western reconstruction.

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

Although the Christmas season is rapidly approaching, not in any year of the absence of a major war, has there been less of the Christmas spirit the world over. There is doubt and suspicion everywhere. Russia and its satellites are behind an iron curtain which sets these people off from the rest of the world. In France and Italy there are strikes and threats of strikes. These show anything but the spirit of universal brotherhood.

China is in the throes of a civil war, there is no peace in Germany and Austria, and it would seem that the victorious allies cannot make peace. Even in Great Britain there is privation, which makes the present season little like the Yuletide in Old England.

Only in our country is any quantity of the spirit of Christmas left, and we too, are disturbed by rising prices and increasing shortages at home as well as by the general hunger and misery in Europe. And speaking of the misery, the New York Times recently published a survey indicating that twenty million children in Europe are sharing the general misery and fear on that continent. And Christmas as the world has always known it, is a season which has specially tended to make the youngsters happy.

Some cynics, as usual when there is general strife and misery, say that Christianity has failed. But has Christianity been practiced in the present world problems?

WHAT HOLLAND WANTS

It is about time, in the opinion of the Dutch, that some of the damage they suffered from the Germans be paid for. Since Germany has little money and many claims on what little they do have, the Dutch suggest some territorial and economic changes as a substitute.

The Dutch would like to annex some border strips of German land which would improve local communications, particularly by canal. This would reduce the Dutch-German border from 327 miles to 211, and add 657 square miles of land and 119,000 people to the Netherlands. The figure on population is subject to some reduction, as Nazis and war criminals would be expelled. The Dutch do not want either.

In the economic field the Dutch want some German coal and potassium workings along the Rhine. This request probably accounts for the delay in granting reparations to the Dutch. Territorial adjustments would meet no objections from the four great powers, but reduction of Germany's coal resources is something else.

PEOPLE AND WEATHER

There was a time when Canada was sensitive about being called "Our Lady of the Snows", thereby giving an impression in some quarters that Canadians were holed up for the winter, emerging only in the late spring. But that period is now almost forgotten, and the northern neighbors are inclined to boast about their weather instead of deprecating it. Such honesty obviously pays, for people from far and near have begun thronging to have a good time in the snow, until they have almost seemed to out-do the Canadian summer itself in tourist value—or at least in talk about their skiing progress.

All of which perhaps teaches a lesson to many people in various places who used to think they couldn't have a good time, or give others a good time, without going far away to strange countries. Here's fun in the yard of our next-door neighbor.

SMALLER CARS COMING?

Smaller incomes may bring smaller cars, says Walter D. Appel, chief engineer of Willys-Overland motors. "The automotive industry cannot afford," he says, "to produce 4,000,000 large cars a year at prices the average man cannot afford."

Small cars have never been popular in the United States. It is hard to say which motorists fear more, ridicule, or the consequences if an ordinarily heavy automobile should hit one of these youthful-looking vehicles. Yet Great Britain has had them for

OUR CANDIDATES

Ladies and gentlemen, I offer you the greatest show on earth, beating everything before and since. This is the most startling exhibition of all time, beating the White Elephant and Tom Thumb and the Two-Headed Lady. It provides us with the most exciting example of Democracy at work, proving to one and all that here anything can happen.

As Republican candidates we have Ike Eisenhower for President and Harold Stassen for Vice-President. For the Third Party, we have Henry Wallace for President and John L. Lewis for Vice-President. As for the Democrats, we leave them strictly on their own with Harry Truman.

Do you think I've gone mad? I told you horses, gentle reader. Be not too harsh. Let's analyze the picture. No man in this country has worked so hard at getting the Presidential nomination as Harold Stassen. He set out way back in 1944 to get 1948. It has been a long pull. As it stands now, there is little question but that he can make Secretary of Commerce should the Republicans win. The biggest mistake he made was to get tied up with some of the Morgan partners. Republicans remember the Morgan influence behind Wilkie and want no more of it.

However, should Eisenhower be nominated, he will need a Vice-President who is at least a Republican. Stassen would do very well in these circumstances. Besides, Stassen could make Eisenhower's speeches for him. Stassen's fault is not that he does not know the subject, it is rather that he maneuvered himself out of the running. He has been an able Governor and certainly has commented on every subject that has come before the public. It would be a good choice for Eisenhower, except that the public would wonder who is the candidate.

As for John L. Lewis, he must pursue his hates. Few men are as keen-minded as John L., but he is psychologically a hater. When crossed, he forgets everything but his grudges. Normally, he is a fine gentleman, a capitalist, and a Republican. The trouble is that he does not stay normal long.

His present grudge is against Truman and the Democrats for letting the Taft-Hartley Bill through. After all, Truman vetoed the tax bills twice and twice the veto stuck. He vetoed the Taft-Hartley Bill once and it was passed over the veto. Do you get it? The Democrats could have killed the Taft-Hartley Bill together with some immature Republicans who managed to get into the Senate. And Truman did not do it—so Truman must out.

No man in this country is more antagonistic to Communism and Communism than John L. Lewis, but he has used them when it served his private purposes. When he organized the C.I.O., he hired squads of them to found the new unions although he kept them out of his United Mine Workers. Then, when pursuing a grudge, he chose Wilkie against Roosevelt and passed out of the C.I.O. he then attacked the Communists in it whom, he himself, had brought in. That's Lewis.

So now he is out of the C.I.O.; out of the A.F. of L.; out with Truman; against the Republicans and Democrats and rarin' to go. Go where? Apparently there is no place to go but with Henry Wallace and his Kremlin pals. (Judge Fuld will note that I am careful to live within the letter and the spirit of the Constitution. I do not call any one by his right name unless I can prove he has no other.)

Anyhow, that would be a magnificent ticket. Wallace and Lewis; if they could last through a campaign together. Lewis might go on strike, while Henry would continue to talk about the Depression that is just around the corner.

Nevertheless, I look forward to a campaign of Eisenhower and Stassen versus Wallace and Lewis with Truman standing by to walk off with the gate. Just as an aside, I wonder if Eisenhower will continue to wear the army uniform after he gets the nomination. He looks so good in it. Maybe we can get all the candidates to wear some kind of uniform. Would Wallace be a Cossack costume? What a campaign! As Schaeffer Durante would say: "What a campaign!"

PHYSICAL EXAMINATION

One of the gratifying results of all our recent industrial difficulties and differences of opinion between employers and employees is that the health of the employee and his family will be supervised by physicians.

However, there is another group, the office executives, who do not come under the provisions of the arrangement with the employees in the factory. In regard to physical examination. Everybody knows that their work is as important as those in the shops, mills, or mines; yet in many industrial organizations there is no provision for a thorough physical examination yearly.

It is thus timely that Dr. E. F. Lutz, in "Occupational Medicine," states that although the importance of proper industrial management long has been recognized, it is only recently that the conservation of the health of this group has received any consideration. In discussing the plan for the health examination of the "management" of General Motors Corporation, he stresses the value of annual physical examination, compulsory vacations, and health education. The first year of this health scheme for management officials under the care of their own family physicians showed that of a total of 900 examined, 30 per cent were found to have definite physical defects.

In carrying out a successful plan for physical examination for management officials, the following suggestions are made: 1. The plan must be on a voluntary basis. 2. Reports must be confidential, and must be given to the person examined or to the physician the person names. 3. The examining clinician (general physician and specialist) must explain to the person in understandable language any defects present. 4. A short written report in layman's language to the person, and a "technical" report to the person's physician should be given. 5. The executive should be notified when it is time for his repeat examination. 6. All charges for X-rays or other aids should be paid by the company, but not for any necessary treatment.

Yet Mr. Appel may be right. Motorized baby buggies may be coming in.

It is not surprising that the anniversary of Pearl Harbor passed without a comment by any Japanese newspaper. After all, what could they say?

Is there such a thing as progress? A cynical friend asked the other day what he could do more easily than he could five or ten years ago. He found his own answer, "Carrying home a $10 basket of groceries."

Two Souls With But a Single Thought

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Washington, Dec. 18—Some of our union heads like to recall a terrible time when a bloke worked six days for $12 and maybe less. That was a low-down living but as good as many a man can buy his family on his take-home pay today.

A suit of cloths for a man or a grown boy cost $15 and $15.00 was the average price for shoes. Every neighborhood had a cobbler; half-soles, 50 cents.

In winter, only the rich had green vegetables and they were hot-house stuff because Florida was a wilderness. The diet of the little people, as Mrs. Roosevelt still calls us of the inferior orders, must have been very bad from the standpoint of a modern case-worker. But the $12 boys turned out a robust lot and we had no rickets in our neighborhood either. Bread and butter, beef, milk, bacon and eggs and the cellar vegetables saw us through the winters. Rent was proportionate and some of the dwellings of the working classes of 40 years ago are still drawing rental income in the big cities. The old man brought home his pay, if he didn't fall in with evil companions, and the wife and mother nicked it out and kept up the instalments on the sewing machine. I doubt that the expense of liquor was as important, relatively, as it is today. The women drank little or nothing.

We fear inflation with awe, as we fear the great pranks of nature, the bearded elders rumble and we fling our arms around their shanks and try to get reassured. In our country, down to now, our money has always come back, but we who respected the 20-cent franc and later got francs for two or three cents know there is nothing in nature to forbid that there.

Sometimes in life it is possible to cure a situation by undoing the acts that caused it. Our inflation was caused by Roosevelt's ignorance and his brass flimpany, and we can't undo that.

His only idea was to print money and put it in the people's pockets. He poured it out and the debt went up and up and still the people had little more than they had before, and that little, counterfeit.

He kept up a running patter like a tail-board feller selling Tiger Marrow Fat to yokels long ago while his agents went among them picking their pockets. He kept them laughing and hoping but still he couldn't answer the big question until the war program came.

Tom Dewey said, over and over, in 1944, that Roosevelt couldn't get the people back to work until, in reality, the government hired them to work for private contractors in the war effort.

"In Heaven's name," Tom used to holler, "do we have to have a war to get jobs for our people?"

He kept insisting that Roosevelt's only solution was to send the boys out to die and to pay the people at home blood-money to manufacture their weapons. Except that I still think we were doomed to implication in that war by our own bigotry and a savage aversion to the truth of Germany's case. I agree with Governor Dewey.

In all those years the great mountebank had done nothing but putter and trifle and now we were going over the falls in a barrel. We were going to spend so much that no arithmetician, economist or even astrologer could pretend to forecast a redemption.

A thousand billion dollars! A thousand, thousand, thousand, thousand dollars of debt. That is a hopeless figure. We will never return to the kind of financial system that we had when we got Roosevelt. Inflation only means that the dollar isn't worth a dollar. It is worth about a quarter, according to my goose-bone psychological and economic tests. Hand a dollar to anyone in the class of people whose income is chiefly tips and his appreciation is about the same that he would have shown for a quarter in a normally prosperous time, say Harding's time. It will buy about as much as a quarter used to buy. Meanwhile, if we retire any debt, we are retiring it in two-bit dollars. There is nothing that we can undo there.

Then, with the war-boom coming, Roosevelt refused to rescind the 40-hour week. This decision cost us billions absolutely without excuse. It was a favor to the union bosses of his own political machine. It was a terrible thing to do. It meant that millions of war-workers got premium pay of 50 per cent, 100 per cent, or even more, not for overtime worked as boss-driven slaves, but as sheer graft. They got an outright gift of $25 a week, or more, or a little less, sometimes from the government, through the medium of war contracts, through a dozen thieving tricks, worked out by union bosses in connivance with the War Labor Board and the contractors.

The contractors didn't mind. They loved it. It ran up their profits based on a percentage of the costs. The more the workers were allowed to graft, the more the contractors made.

Hundreds of thousands refused to work Mondays or Tuesdays unless they were guaranteed work for Saturday and Sundays. The work done on overtime days and on overtime hours at night was worth no more than any other work. It was a raw racket and the people who squandered this ill-gotten loot on brass jewelry will deserve any hardship that is put upon them by the inflation.

That can't be undone. Then Philip Murray's steelworkers struck for a month in the winter of 1946 and we lost production in hundreds of things that never will be made up as long as we live. It was lost at a terribly critical time when we should have been resuming our industry. The strike was settled by a raise of 1 1/2 cents an hour in pay and $5 a ton to the companies that called for other raises for people who had to pay the higher price of steel products. These included farmers, of course, who therefore raised the price of food. Meanwhile, Murray's Auto Workers, whose war record in industry was about the worst of all, struck for 100 days and called for other raises for people who had to pay the higher price of steel products. ## Acorn Hill Fire. In Chimney Does $1,000 Damage

A fire, which was said to have been caused from a wood fire in the stove and which later ignited the chimney in the home of Mrs. Kate Oakley, Acorn Hill, between Olive Bridge and Samsonville about 7:15 a. m. today, resulted in an estimated damage of between $500 and $1,000, Chief Albert Fox of the Olive Fire Department No. 1, Inc., said today.

Chief Fox, in reporting the fire, said that his firemen reached the scene at approximately 7:30 a. m. and it was extinguished at 8:15 a. m. Upon the arrival of the firemen, flames were seen jutting through the roof and on the side of the building.

The quick response by the Olive Fire Department, which is located about four miles from the scene of the blaze, again proved its worth in saving the Oakley home from excessive destruction.

legislation be enacted at this session of Congress.

"It is this or nothing," Halleck said.

Containing several of the less controversial phases of President Truman's 10-point fight-inflation program, but lacking any authority to reimpose consumer rationing or price and wage controls, the bill was snatched from oblivion by some of the fastest legislative footwork in years.

Rule Is Drafted

Even as the Senate rammed it past dwindling Democratic opposition, the House Rules Committee drafted a "rule" to clear it for floor debate during today's session starting at 10 a. m. The "rule," blueprinting House procedure, (a) allows two hours debate, (b) bans any amendments except those offered by the Republican-controlled Banking Committee—which has none in mind—and (c) gives protesting Democrats the privilege of trying to kill the bill on a motion to send it back to committee.

Since only a majority vote is required under such procedure, passage of the measure was virtually certain.

The House last Monday took up a somewhat similar bill under an even more stringent "gag" rule which required a two-thirds majority for approval.

That effort failed when 26 Republicans joined 161 Democrats in voting "No," against 292 G.O.P. "Ayes."

But as for today's bill, Republican Leader Halleck of Indiana told newsmen:

"We will pass it with votes to spare. We may lose as many as 10 Republican votes but we probably will pick up a few Democrats along the way."

Halleck noted that 32 Senate Democrats voted for the bill yesterday after having failed in their drive to amend it to follow more closely along the lines of Mr. Truman's program.

Democrats weren't discussing their House chances, but they cried out against the procedure barring floor amendments. Rep. Monroney (D-Okla.) called it "an unthinkable, super-gag rule."

Based primarily on voluntary action to halt inflationary price rises, the bill introduced by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) would:

1. Permit the President to consult with industry, business and agriculture representatives to encourage agreements to keep prices in line.

The agreements could provide for parceling out scarce commodities among the various users, for regulation of speculative trading, for controls over inventories, that is the amount of materials on hand, and for the allocation of transportation facilities, such as box cars.

The agreements could not, however, provide for price fixing.

They would remain in effect until March 1, 1949, when the proposed law would expire and would be exempt from the anti-trust laws when approved by the President through the Justice Department.

2. Extend until Feb. 28, 1949, the President's power to control exports.

3. Continue until the same date controls over rail transportation facilities.

Both of these controls now are due to lapse next February 29.

4. Set up a food conservation program in this country and a program to promote food and livestock production in non-European countries, both to be voluntary.

5. Request, but not direct, the President to submit to Congress a detailed program to parcel out cost-of-living items when they reach the "critical shortage" stage, with Congress to act on the program, one way or the other, within 15 days.

6. Restore the President's wartime authority to restrict the use of grain and liquor production.

Powers Requested

The export control and boxcar allocation powers were requested specifically by the President in his message to Congress when it convened November 17.

But the senate disregarded his plea for power to invoke rationing and price control at consumers levels, if necessary, and Democrats fought in vain to add these and other Truman-proposed powers to the Taft bill.

As the Senate wrangled over the bill, the House approached the high-priced problem from another angle. It directed its public works committee to investigate "conspiratorial practices which seriously undermine and threaten the national economy."

Chairman Dondero (R-Mich.) told newsmen, "we're going to look into the whole picture of conspiratorial and other questionable practices and find out the extent of their pressure on skyrocketing prices generally."

He said major targets of the inquiry will be the lumber, steel, plumbing and automobile industries.

foreign countries be held up until the needs of the domestic economy have been satisfied; better distribution and transportation methods.

The report paralleled the Small Business recommendation that tankers be made available as quickly as possible for domestic use, and both called for the government and armed services to hold their petroleum use to the minimum for the next several months.

In New York, Bruce P. Disque, president of the Coal Consumers Protective Association warned residents of the Empire state they could expect little help from the weather man in taking the bite out of possible fuel-short days ahead.

Disque, who said that local temperatures since September 1 had been 29 per cent lower than those during the same period last year, predicted "real suffering" by January or February, unless fuel users adopt stern conservation measures.

TREES FOR A DOLLAR

Elliott Roosevelt and his wife, Faye Emerson Roosevelt, sell Christmas trees grown on the Roosevelt estate, on a lot on the fringe of the business district at Poughkeepsie, N. most customers "demand balsams." At the same time, referring to the fact that Elliott's wife, Faye Emerson, helped him sell more than 900 trees yesterday while wearing a mink coat.

Del Santo said, "If Mr. Roosevelt had to make his money selling Christmas trees, his wife would not be at the lot wearing a mink coat."

Elliott, who is engaged in farming with his mother, has been selling the trees which his father planted while president at a wholesale price of 65 cents a tree in 100 lots. His decision to sell at retail came after a New York visit when, he said, he saw 15-foot trees selling for as high as $35.

low trenches dug by Arabs, outside Holon village, near Tel Aviv, causing the death of one Arab. Three Arabs and two Hagana members were wounded.

Hagana spokesmen said the trenches had been dug under cover of Arab sniping from the village of Tel Erish.

Dr. Chaim Kugel, president of the Holon city council, said he had requested that a detachment of British troops be sent to "occupy" Holon.

Meanwhile, a band of about 100 persons whom officers believed to have been Arabs, exploded a bomb on the right of way and held up a freight train on the Haifa-Lydda line. The attackers loaded 35 tons of sugar onto waiting trucks and drove off.

Proper Diet May Be Key to Youthfulness

Boston, Dec. 19 (AP)—Proper diet may be the key to prolonged youthfulness, in the opinion of a New York expert on nutrition.

Dr. Charles Glen King, scientific director of the Nutrition Foundation, Inc., of New York, said in an interview last night that by feeding or withholding certain foods he was able to make rats grow "old" or stay "young."

"Diet can affect the aging process," Dr. King said. "Some recent evidence from laboratory research shows this indisputably."

He said that Green, leafy vegetables, milk and citrus fruits were youth-giving portions of all diets.

charge and countercharge. He described the failure of the conference as a "serious but not irreparable setback."

"My faith," he said, "is that the United Nations Assembly will succeed in keeping the peace, and I feel the major powers should follow the broad democratic outlook of the assembly—for in a multitude of assembly there is safety."

Evatt, who spoke before a luncheon meeting of the United Nations Association in Sydney, said the big powers had not controlled the proceedings of the recent U.N. Assembly sessions in New York.

"If they have a strong case they win it," he said. "If not they lose it and accept the decision. The same thing must apply to the settlement of the peace in Germany, or there never will be a settlement in Germany."

Couldn't Get Down

Fireman Philip Malnes of the Central Station removed a cat from a tree at 69 Washington avenue Thursday morning. The freed cat had evidently caused much concern among the residents of the area, the fire dispatcher reported, because at least four calls were received at Central station.

One of these calls came from a girl who wanted the firemen to rescue the cat before she, the girl, had to leave for school, the dispatcher said.

Compliment
If a woman you have seen often still expects a compliment, tell her she looks different somehow but you can't describe just what it is. The mystery of this will hold her for a while and make her feel mysterious—which all women like to do. During the interim you can think of something more definite to say, for example that she has a new expression in her eyes or seems to have changed her outlook. Since women change their minds a good deal, or at least consider doing so, this will probably hit somewhere vulnerable.

What is the most pessimistic animal?
What islands are the best for holding plenaries?
What is the best weather to make hay?
What is it that runs in and out of town all night?
How can you stop a chimney from smoking?
All right, if you couldn't get them all, here are the answers:
A horse, he always says Nay.
The Sandwich Islands.
When it rains pitchforks.
A road.
Put the fire out.

Give some people an inch and they think they are a ruler.

EAT WELL for Less

PARTY COOKIES DELIGHT KIDS

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Plum pudding affiance is a beloved tradition for Christmas dessert. However, with children in the family, ice cream and party cookies, shaped into balls and rolled in colored sugar, seem a more appropriate suggestion.

Party Cookies (4 dozen cookies)

One-half cup shortening, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract, 1 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon milk, 4 egg yolks, well beaten, 1 1/4 cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 cup nut meats, chopped.

Combine shortening, salt and vanilla. Add sugar gradually, mixing well; then beat in the milk. Add well beaten egg yolks and mix thoroughly. Sift flour with baking powder and add to the shortening mixture. Chill and then shape into 1/2-inch balls; roll in chopped nuts and place at least an inch apart in a well-greased glass utility dish or cookie sheet. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 15 minutes or until the cookies are lightly browned. Roll cookie balls in colored sugar for decoration.

And here's another Christmas dessert children will like.

Holly Cream Cake (Serves 8)

One-half cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, 3 eggs, separated, 2 cups sifted whole wheat flour, 3/4 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup milk.

Cream shortening together with

1/2 cup sugar until well blended. Beat egg yolks well; add to mixture. Sift flour once; measure and sift again with baking powder and salt. Add dry ingredients to creamed mixture, alternating with milk. Beat egg whites stiff, but not dry; gradually add remaining 1/2 cup sugar and fold into cake batter. Pour into two greased 8-in. layer pans; bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) 30 minutes. When cooled, fill layers with custard cream filling. To decorate the top, place an 8-inch holly-patterned dolly (or cut-out pattern) on cake. Sprinkle with a heavy layer of confectioners' sugar. Remove dolly carefully.

SUNDAY'S MENU

CHRISTMAS SUPPER: Sliced cold turkey and ham, casseroles of broccoli in cheese sauce, cranberry jelly, hard rolls, butter or fortified margarine, fresh fruit cup, holly cake, tea, milk.

road ice, although state police said highways generally were clear. Mrs. Grace D. Sweet, 28, of Ballston Spa was injured fatally last night when her automobile skidded on a glazed pavement and struck a pole near Saratoga Springs.

Cold air from Canada moved into the state, shoving the mercury down from the high-thirties upstate yesterday morning.

Albany registered zero at 5 a. m. today.

The lowest temperature of the current fall season in New York city was recorded at 6:10 a. m. when the thermometer dropped to 19 degrees. The season's previous low of 23 was set December 1 and duplicated yesterday.

By 7 a. m. today the reading had risen to 22 degrees.

Demonstrators Use Flag to Give Cops a Rough Time

A detachment of state and local police, detailed to the Hershey Metal Products Co., Ansonia, Conn., finished their tour of duty with mighty tired right arms. To protest a ban on mass picketing, CIO demonstrators, carrying a U. S. flag, marched back and forth for two hours and the cops were forced to salute the flag every time the marchers passed by.

Flatbush Minister Is Re-elected Head Of Bible Society

The Rev. Stephen W. Ryder, Ph.D., pastor of the Flatbush Reformed Church, was re-elected president of the Ulster County Bible Society during a recent meeting at the First Baptist Church.

Other re-elected officers include Irving W. Scott, vice president; the Rev. John B. Steketee, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. George S. Groves was chosen director and the Rev. Edward V. Winder, D.D., trustee.

The subject of increasing the attention to and interest in the Bible was discussed at length and plans were laid for promoting this work were begun.

The society expects to hold its next public meeting in the spring of 1948.

An appropriation of $100 was made from the society's fund for the world-wide work of the American Bible Society.

Birth Rate Tops Deaths in October

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 19 (AP)—The state's birth rate dropped and its death rate climbed during October, but there still were about twice as many births. A total of 26,403 babies were born, while 13,460 persons died, the Health Department said today.

The department said the October birth rate—21.9 per 1,000 population—was the second highest for the month since 1919, even though it fell under last year's 24.8 figure.

The mortality rate, boosted by an eight per cent increase in total deaths, jumped from 10.4 per 1,000 population in October, 1946, to 11.2 last October.

The month's births declined from a record of about 30,000 in 1946. Deaths increased from 12,435 in 1946.

The department attributed the rising mortality rate to more cancer, diabetes and heart disease deaths.

Governors Confer On State Issues; Milk Rates First

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—The Republican governors of New York, New Jersey and Connecticut conferred here yesterday on a five-point agenda of mutual government problems with the shortage of milk taking top billing at their parley.

At the invitation of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the tri-state session of chief executives discussed these things:

Milk pricing arrangements, shortage of the fluid and the possibility of floating governmental economies by eliminating multiple dairy inspections.

Overlapping taxes assessed by both the federal and state governments and the dual costs of collections.

The possibility of adding sickness benefits to the unemployment insurance systems of the three states.

The question of raising rates of payment for unemployment insurance and workmen's compensation.

Rehabilitation of docks in New York's harbor.

New Jersey's governor, Alfred E. DuSable, and Connecticut's James L. McConaughy announced that they had agreed there was not immediate need to expand the New York port authority, as suggested by some planning groups, by adding Connecticut to the agency which is now controlled by the states of New York and New Jersey.

Dewey said that the governors, in addition to being concerned over a current milk shortage, also are interested in milk control pricing and the possible adoption of a uniform system for the three-state area.

In Connecticut the price of milk is fixed on the basis of its cost of production at the farm level, while in New York, operating under a federal-state plan, a formula involving the price of butter in Chicago and the cost of milk products is used. New Jersey employs a combination of both systems.

Dewey, a dairy farmer himself, said that multiple inspections cut down milk production and declared the practice constituted an example of "bureaucracy piled on bureaucracy."

Conclusions reached at the conference were not disclosed.

Dewey Blames Moscow For Plight in Italy

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—Europe's "left wing revolutionaries," Gov. Thomas E. Dewey says, "are just lying back, waiting for the next chance" to seize control of Italy and France.

Speaking yesterday at "rechristening" ceremonies for the second food cargo ship bearing Friendship Train gifts to Italy, the New York governor praised the efforts of Italy toward reconstruction but declared that as "they struggle to rebuild a society and a free government from the ruins of war, they are under a constant attack by forces operated on strings manipulated by Moscow."

The ship, the 10,400-ton S.S. Hooper State of the State Marine Line, was scheduled to sail today with a cargo of 5,000,000 pounds of food staples, bound for Genoa.

After Dewey's speech, Mrs. Alberto Tarchiani, wife of the Italian ambassador to the United States, temporarily renamed the vessel "S.S. Friendship Cargo."

"We have seen how the Communists in Italy as well as in France staged a desperate effort to upset and seize control of the governments of those countries," Dewey said.

"Fortunately, those attempts were defeated, but the struggle is not over. The left-wing revolutionaries are just lying back, waiting for the next chance. But they can be, they will be defeated."

Vets Want to Tell Truman About High Living Costs

Washington, Dec. 19 (AP)—A committee of student veterans asked the White House for a chance to tell President Truman personally today how the cost of living is putting the squeeze on veterans in college.

"This is a situation that subversive groups, operating on college campuses, had prayed for," said Tucker Irvine of Washington, Ga., a committee member. "Veterans can't live on the money they are getting."

The committee represents a group known as the National Conference of Veteran Trainees. Irvine said the delegates were elected at college meetings in each state. They want Congress to increase the stipend for single students under the G.I. Bill of Rights from $65 to $75 a month and for married students from $90 to $105, plus $15 if they have children.

Vote to Split

Paris, Dec. 19 (AP)—Representatives of the anti-Communist minority of the powerful General Confederation of Labor (C.G.T.) voted overwhelmingly today to split with the parent organization. The delegates were believed to represent approximately 1,250,000 workers of the C.G.T.'s 6,000,000 adherents. The break was made, a communiqué said, "to free the French syndical movement from all political control."

Highest Lake

Lake Titicaca, two and one-half miles above sea level, is believed to be the highest lake in the world on which steamboats operate.

To Cheer Teams Friday

The Woodstock varsity and junior varsity basketball teams will get plenty of sideline support when they go into action tonight at the Town Hall when the above pictured cheerleaders go into action. The cheerleaders, pictured left to right, are Sally McCahill, Vi Smith, Florence Tripicco, Joan Mower and Connie Egan.

The first game is slated for 7 p. m., with the Jayvees playing Port Ewen and the second part of the doubleheader is listed for 8:15 p. m., with the varsity five engaging St. Mary's of Kingston. (Freeman Photo)

Woodstock News

By Peg Hard

Beaver Area Is Made Sanctuary By State Heads

Woodstock, Dec. 19—Roy J. Palmer, New York State Game Protector, accompanied by Justice Fitzsimmons, Town Clerk Grant Elwyn and Dave Myers, visited the newly established beaver colony located on the premises of Mrs. Margaret Kenyon on the Glasco Turnpike and with the consent of the owner, designated the "beaver" area to be a game sanctuary. It is not known how long the beavers have been going about the business of establishing their claim, less than 50 feet from the Glasco Turnpike, for they were first discovered by Raymond Kargere, whose property adjoins the Kenyon land. Mr. Kargere and Anton Otto Fischer, a near neighbor, investigated what they believed to be trespassers cutting trees and were very much surprised to learn that the trespassers were beavers.

Ernest Owen Hunt, These industrious little animals have made a sizeable lake by damming up the creek running through the Kenyon property. Large numbers of small trees have been felled and a hut of large proportions has been set up in the middle of the lake in a spot well concealed by thick brush and trees, from the public view.

Unmistakably, the Woodstock beavers are ardent craftsmen evidenced by the intricate woodcarving job in process near the edge of the lake. Many a piece of freshly cut timber were seen on top and in front of the beaver hut.

According to Mr. Palmer, the beavers would not encroach on any other property in the vicinity unless and until the newly made lake would be flooded an additional 16 inches, which he does not consider likely.

In the meantime Mrs. Kenyon seems to be very hardy about her uninvited tenants and has posted her property with "No Trespassing" signs.

Photographer on Spot For a few moments, while trekking down the beavers, it seemed almost inevitable that the beaver rescue squad would have to be called out when Ken Roosa, the Freeman photographer, narrowly escaped a ducking, camera and all, as he crawled along rubber ice to get his picture of the beaver hut.

However, he survived with only a rather badly torn topcoat and the hope that your reporter finds no more such colonies at least until the ice is well frozen.

Regan's Displays Attracts Attention At Christmas Fair

Woodstock, Dec. 19—Edward Regan, automobile salesman for Stuyvesant Motors in Kingston, has many interesting and practical articles for the Christmas Fair at the Woodstock Guild of Craftsman, where he has been a con-signor for several years.

Toy and lamp making has been one of Mr. Regan's hobbies for some time, but when interviewed he was particularly enthusiastic about instruction he has received from William Oskay, who is in charge of the woodworking class at the Kingston High school. There are about 20 men in the class and Mr. Regan stated that he has learned a lot about his work from Mr. Oskay, who is considered by his pupils to be an excellent teacher.

Made for Friend

"Tiny Tim," a military figure standing about 36-inches from the floor is a particular favorite with youngsters because he serves as a holder for brush, comb, towel, tooth brush, etc. Asked to explain the name of this practical toy, which does not bespeak the famous Dickens character, Mr. Regan said he had made one for his little friend, Barry Bliss of Kingston, who immediately christened the soldier Tiny Tim, and so it is.

Other toys of interest to the children in the Christmas Fair are Mr. Regan's well-known duck rocker, gnomes and Southern Belle, Alice in Wonderland, Chinese lady and other dolls made by Belle Segelken, Phoenixia; and unusual stuffed animals by Emily Schaffert of New Paltz.

The Guild Christmas Fair will continue including Sunday through Tuesday, December 23, from 1:30 to 5:30 in the afternoon.

Goodrich Elevated To Sales Manager In Local Concern

Woodstock, Dec. 19—Charles H. Goodrich, formerly of Saugerties and now a resident of Woodstock, has been promoted to the position of sales manager of the J. F. Marr Company, Woodstock, effective January 1, 1948.

Mr. Goodrich, a navy veteran, served in both the American and European theatres. Following his honorable discharge, he became associated with the J. F. Marr Co.,

'Standing Army' Voted

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—The Greater New York C.I.O. Council has voted to establish what it terms a "standing army" to be available for picketing and mass demonstrations and has elected Michael J. Quill, head of the Transport Workers Union, as president. Quill, unopposed in elections last night, succeeds Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union. The action to form the reserve "army" for picketing was recommended by the council's executive board.

Clinic for Cerebral Palsy Is Subject For Tuesday Parley.

Plans for the operation of a diagnostic clinic here for victims of cerebral palsy will be discussed by officers and steering committee members of the Ulster County Cerebral Palsy unit on Tuesday, December 30. Mrs. George Clark, vice-chairman in charge of publicity, announced today.

At that meeting Philip Kerker, executive director of the New York State Association for Crippled Children, will be present to report on the possibility of securing Dr. M. A. Pearlstein, orthopedic surgeon of Chicago, as officer in charge of the clinic. The date of the proposed clinic will be announced later.

Dr. Charles E. Huntington, psychologist at New Paltz State Teachers' College, has consented to give psychometric tests and Binet intelligence tests at this clinic, Mrs. Clark announced.

The unit has also made efforts to secure movies showing the program for a treatment center for cerebral palsied children. These films are available on loan from the National Cerebral Palsy Society. Mrs. Clark said, but because of the demand for them by local units there is a waiting list, and it is thought that it will be about two months before the Ulster county unit will be able to show the films.

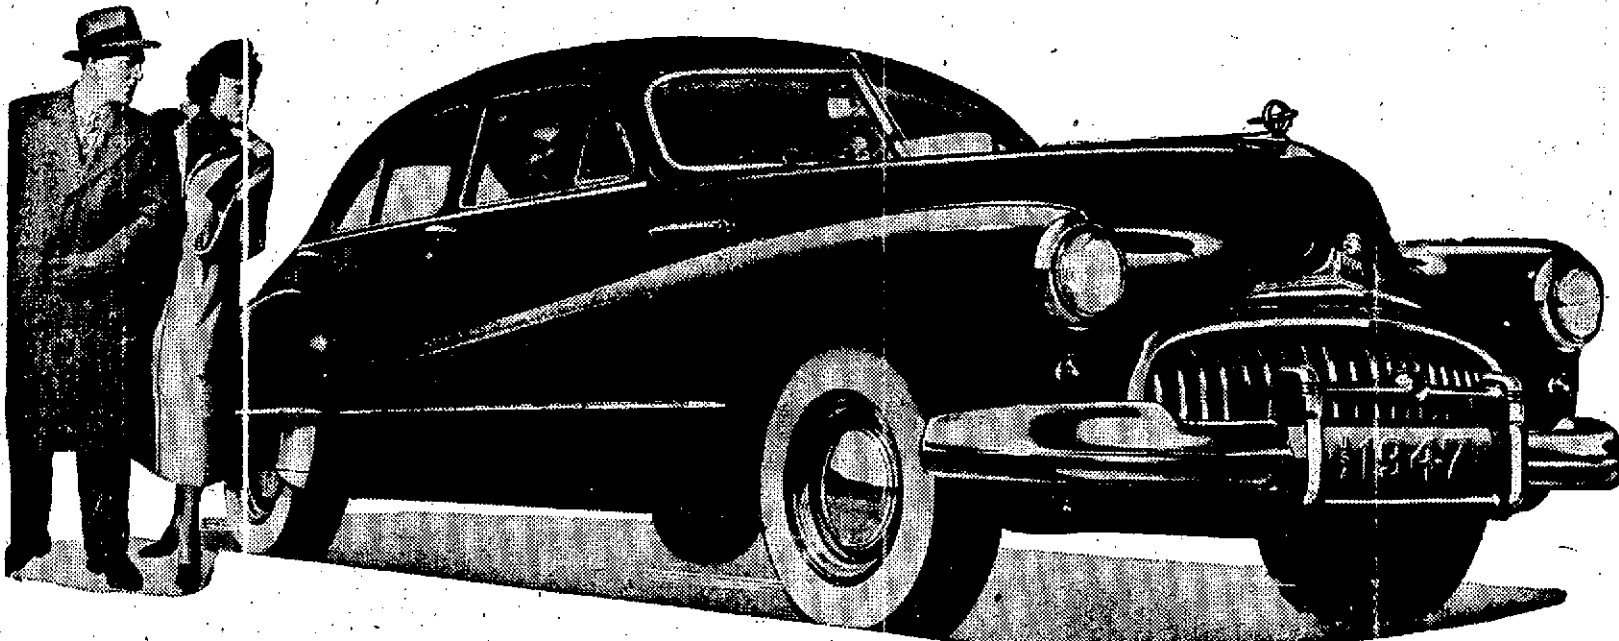

No meeting of the unit will be held during December. Mrs. Clark said, but plans for future meetings and the program for the early part of the coming year were discussed by the steering committee at a meeting Thursday, December 11, at the home of Rubi H. I. Bloom, chairman. Meetings of the unit are regularly held on the third Thursday of every month.

Looks to Insanity Plea To Escape Gas Chamber

Nevada City, Calif., Dec. 19 (AP)—Lois Hunt Hardy, adjudged a murderer for luring a man into a mountain meadow tryst where he made a woman shot him to death, looked today to a second trial, on an insanity plea, to save her from possible death in San Quentin's gas chamber.

A jury late yesterday found the 22-year-old New London, Conn., woman guilty of first degree murder for her part in the "kiss of death" slaying of James W. McLain, 48, a motorist who had offered a ride to her and her hitchhiking husband.

The prosecutor did not ask for the death penalty, but the verdict carried a mandatory death sentence because the jury made no recommendation for mercy.

Why let it be a passing fancy?

EVERY day you see them, swinging smoothly by.

And every time you see them, like as not, the same thing happens.

You fancy yourself traveling in style that's unmistakable anywhere, and eye-catching wherever you go.

You picture the fun you could have behind this big bonnetful of Fireball power, eager for your treadle-foot's nudge, as avid as you are for high adventure.

You picture the glorious comfort there must be in soft, coil springs all around and a ride as level as an honest man's look.

You picture the peace of mind that could be yours in a carriage so big, so sure, so steady—a car whose very wheel-rims lend security and control as well as softness to your going.

Well sir!

Why let such pleasant fancies be passing fancies only?

Why know Buick only from the sidewalk, when every day that passes could be bringing you nearer to owning one?

First step is simply to make up your mind you're going to own one of these style stars. Next is to see your nearest Buick dealer.

Stiles Tells Court Of Contract Efforts With Typo Union

New York, Dec. 19 (AP) — Attempts to negotiate a contract between the Daily Review Corporation, which publishes the Nassau Daily Review-Star, and the Nassau County Typographical Union 915 (A.F.L.), were described yesterday by James E. Stiles, corporation president and publisher of the newspaper.

Stiles testified at a hearing on charges of unfair labor practices in a complaint issued by the National Labor Relations Board against the union and its parent, The International Typographical Union.

The hearing continued at the Bar building, where Jerome J. Macht, N.R.L.B. counsel, examined Stiles as to events leading up to a work stoppage in the composing room on Nov. 10.

The complaint was issued after the newspaper management alleged that the unions indulged in unfair labor practices under the Taft-Hartley law, refusing to bargain collectively in good faith and "restraining and coercing" employees in the exercise of rights "guaranteed" in the law.

In his account of what happened during negotiation meetings at a Garden City, N. Y., hotel and in his office at Rockville Center, Stiles declared that several offers of raises and a shorter work week were made to the union but that representatives of the N.C.T.U. No. 915 refused to accept the offers, tendering instead a contract containing a sentence which would provide that if any portion of the agreement were invalidated by a court or agency, the entire document would be voided.

After relating his slide of developments at the Garden City hotel on June 19, July 2, 15 and 17, Stiles related that he held a meeting on July 24 at the Review-Star office at the request of John J. Byrnes, president of Local 915 and a former Review-Star proof-reader.

Contract Presented
At the meeting, he said, Byrnes and other union representatives presented a contract and said that "unless that contract was signed and accepted at once that there would be a lockout and a strike and the men would walk out of the plant."

Stiles continued: "I told them that when they said the contract was presented herewith, and had to be signed at once, that I would not sign... until it had been checked by my attorneys and by Mr. (Karl H.) Thiesing (executive secretary of the New York State Publishers' Association) and that I would not sign any contract containing the portion of the first paragraph in the sentence discussed not containing any of the so-called clauses which we now call the form 'a' clauses."

He added that Robert C. Kirkpatrick, I.T.U. International representative, told him that "the contract would have to be signed as presented" for submission to a union meeting the same night or the next day.

Stiles testified that Kirkpatrick used his telephone to call I.T.U. headquarters at Indianapolis, reporting after a 30-minute lapse that the I.T.U. executive committee wanted the contract signed or it would seek to specify conditions of employment which would result in a work stoppage if not fulfilled.

Over the objection of Allan F. Perl, I.T.U. counsel, Trial Examiner Peter F. Ward received in evidence a letter from Stiles to Thiesing dated July 24, asking Thiesing to examine the proposed contract "submitted to me today at 2 o'clock for execution" by the N.C.T.U.

"Enclosed also is a copy of the provisions which they attempted to blackmail me (apparently a typographical error) today in their conference, indicating that unless the contract was signed today all of these additional provisions, 51 in all, would have to be included in the contract," the letter stated.

At this point, the hearing was adjourned until noon Monday at the N.R.L.B. regional office, 120 Wall street.

Earlier, Stiles told of a meeting at the hotel on June 19 at which Kirkpatrick told management that most of the contract provisions had been agreed upon, except wages and hours. At this meeting, he said, Stiles made a "personal appeal" giving various reasons why he could not meet all the union's demands.

He recalled that he asked the

Praises Kiwanis Show

Editor, The Freeman:
My husband and I have been in Kingston for the past week on business and last night and the night before we attended the show put on by the Kiwanis Kapers. I would like to congratulate them through your paper.

We have never seen local talent put on any better. And the sample checked little Hawaiian dancer came out on stage, she stole the show—the auditorium shook with the applause. I believe her name was Sandy Mackay.

And the acrobatic number done by Rae Gadd was also cleverly done. I would also like to congratulate their dance school instructor for the good job she has done with the children.

When Kiwanis puts on another show we will be in Kingston to see it.

Very gratefully yours, unionists to "consider the equity and validity of the offer, which we made."

The corporation had offered a $5 weekly increase, effective July 2, and a $2 additional raise as of January 1, 1948, Stiles said. He declared the union wanted a scale of $80, but the demand for $80 after seeking to match the New York city scale. He said that union leaders originally argued for a 32 and a half hour week, then for a 37 and a half hour week.

Macht read into the record a memorandum of June 19 intended to show that the Review-Star and Newsday, in joint negotiations, offered to submit the case to arbitration. He testified that, on July 2, Kirkpatrick indicated to the management of both papers that the $80 scale must be agreed upon, but that the Newsday owners said that Newsday was not making money and that they did not desire to put more money into it.

According to Stiles, Kirkpatrick responded that "he didn't take much stock in the type of arguments presented by the newspapers" and that "as a matter of fact they would have to agree to the scale which the union had on the negotiations could not continue."

Stiles said he pointed out that a $7 increase had raised the scale to $63 a week, and that in offering another $7 the paper would have raised pay $14 by January 1.

By that night, the paper had offered $73 for 40 hours—a day scale—effective July 2, and $75 on January 1, Stiles said, but the union asked for a 37½-hour week at $75 weekly on July 2 and $80 on January 1.

Stiles said that on July 2 Kirkpatrick indicated he could not recommend the papers' proposals to the union and that if the union voted on them "we would then be involved in the problem of disagreement and a strike."

By July 17, he said, the paper offered to cut the work week to 38 and three-quarters hours but although "several" employees told him at 11 o'clock that the union had voted to accept the offer, including the $73 and $75 provision, a week later the union presented the contract at which he balked.

Tenants Favored In Eviction Case

In city court Thursday evening a jury returned a verdict for tenants Earl V. and Lillian Tongue and Dorothy Rhodes, denying an action to evict brought by landlord Eva H. Harder.

Eva Harder, through her agent, Alfred J. Harder of the town of Hurley, brought action to evict these tenants from the annex at 231 Albany avenue, Kingston, on the grounds of possession of these accommodations was being sought by the landlord for the purpose of substantially remodeling and altering them to erect a corner service housing accommodations, as provided by Section 209-A (4) of Public Law 388, Seventy-ninth Congress.

James G. Connelly, attorney for the tenants, contended that the alterations proposed by the landlord were only necessary repairs which should have been done long ago, and which were neglected.

The jury of six found in favor of the tenants. City Judge Matthew V. Cahill presided. The landlord was represented by Hugh Elwyn.

Typhoid Outbreak Is Reported After Wedding

Lancaster, Pa., Dec. 19 (AP)—Illness of a 16-year-old girl was diagnosed as typhoid fever today as health authorities disclosed six other persons are suspected of having the disease.

The seven were among 76 guests who attended a wedding reception at nearby Little on Thanksgiving Day, said County Health Officer Henry Hammaker.

The official reported prompt action is being taken to communicate with all the other guests to warn them they may have been exposed to the infection.

"It's too late to inoculate them but we want to let them know of the danger," Hammaker said. "Then, if they get sick, there can be prompt diagnosis and treatment."

Hammaker said search for the guests, most of them residents of this area, began after doctors at Lancaster General Hospital announced Esther Stauffer, 17, had been stricken with typhoid.

Her brother, Clyde, 26, one of the six other stricken guests, is in the same hospital but nature of his ailment and that of the others has not been established definitely. Hammaker said investigation has not indicated source of the girl's infection.

High School Honor Roll

Editor, The Freeman:
May I have the privilege of making an explanation in your columns which relates to our high school honor roll?

They have been recently listed on the basis of averages and only for those students taking a full time schedule of at least four subjects. Unfortunately, this division rather limits many worthy students who for one reason or another have been given permission to attend part time and take less than the full four subject schedule.

An example of this is Virginia Flores who with three subjects made an average for the first report card period this fall, of 92 per cent and the last report card period of 95 1/5 per cent.

Sincerely yours,

OPEN EVENINGS UNTIL CHRISTMAS

WEST SHOKAN

Shokan, Dec. 18.—The Ashokan M. E. Sunday school Christmas program will take place at 7:30 p. m., Friday evening, Dec. 19. Next Sunday evening there will be a service of carols and candle lighting in the church beginning at 7:30 o'clock. There will be no union prayer meeting in the Glenford church this week or on Christmas and New Year's Day. The Ashokan church is still receiving clothes for shipment to Church World Service and such articles for the needy may be deposited in the relief bags near the door of the church.

Local K.H.S. seniors have received a unique and attractive Christmas folder from Principal Clarence Dumm of the high school.

Elmer Bush with his team has been snaking out logs on the Route 28 clearing job between Ashokan and Glenford. The logs and firewood lay thick in the wake of the timbering crews who apparently are A-1 choppers and sawyers. Hundreds of big trees have been felled along the north border of the Ashokan reservoir preserve preparatory to grading the new alignment. Huge bulldozers root the pine and hardwood stumps out in jig time.

Charles ("Bud") Jackson had a birthday on Wednesday, Dec. 17. Charles, who came here from Brooklyn four years ago, has also resided in Charleston, S. C., San Diego, Cal., Bromont, Wash., Portsmouth, Va., Washington, D.C., and Hyattsville, Md.—and that's quite some traveling around for a teenager. One of four children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jackson, he is a K.H.S. senior and vice president of the Youth Fellowship of the Ashokan M. E. Church.

Thursday, Dec. 18, 1902, funeral services were held in the West Shokan Baptist Church for Mrs. Curtis Beadle, the Rev. Mr. Alfie officiating. Mrs. Beadle before marriage was Sarah Catherine Davis. She was born in Olive, a daughter of John B. and Catherine (LeFevre) Davis, and resided for many years on the Beadle farm in Traver Hollow. Grandchildren of Mrs. Beadle include Edward Every and Lee Beadle of Kingston.

Mrs. Marion Wiese, a patient at the Benedictine Hospital, was improving at last reports.

Having an anniversary: Arthur and Edith Carter, well known residents of the lower village, will be celebrating their 47th wedding anniversary Friday, December 19. They were married at the Reformed Church in the old village of Shokan by the Rev. Charles Palmer, and much of their wedded life was spent at Mrs. Carter's old home, the William Bogart farm in the Coons district. For the past 10 years they have resided at Ashokan where Mr. Carter is superintendent of the George W. Pratt summer place near Tonawanda mountain.

Noted in passing: The flag, waving in Tuesday's stiff breeze from the staff atop the servicemen's memorial tablet, might have been an inspiring sight but for the fact that this particular copy of Old Glory was whipped to shreds as a result of long and continuous exposure to the elements. A tattered flag and a rusty staff make a poor combination, in the words of one patriotic citizen. Now your columnist knows of a veteran who stands ready and willing to care for the flag and the memorial plot gratis asking only that the fund appoint him to the privilege. The flag of course would not be left out in the rain, without ever being hauled down at night, as has been the case for many months.

The movie theatre at Phenicia invited the pupils of the Ashokan school to enjoy a special show Thursday afternoon. The same courtesy was extended and accepted last year.

Louis Thiel and Clarence Mason have motor bikes. Mr. Thiel claims he can make long trips with his machine at a very small outlay for fuel.

Raccoons are rather plentiful in the vicinity of the mountain road this winter. William Tuccello, local farmer, has bagged several of these nocturnal prowlers which are said to make very good pot-pie. "Bill" has a good dog to expedite his hunting activities.

Word has been received in the village by a former associate of John G. Harpley, construction superintendent of the Tennessee Gas Transmission Co., who is currently engaged in preliminary work on a project in the Elmira area. Mr. Harpley is plotting by airplane, a suitable path for a large-diameter pipe line, as an extension of the present system, from Charleston, W. Va., to Boston. He is anxious to do some fishing in the Ashokan Reservoir and its tributary trout streams and expects to become a frequent visitor in this section. Mr. Harpley's home is in Houston, Tex.

A local marriage of Tuesday, December 20, 1898, was that which united William Middagh of Marlborough to Emma Bush of Olive. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Lewis F. Piper, pastor of the Shokan Methodist Church, and witnesses to the nuptials were W. Middagh and J. Bush. Both bride and groom were descendants of early settlers in the Winchell's Falls neighborhood.

Donald DuBois of Route 28 has employment in Poughkeepsie. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Link, formerly of Scarsdale, are remaining this winter at their mountain road place which they bought of George Fisher early in the fall.

Santa Gets Taken for a Ride

Because the Matson Liner SS Marine Phoenix will be crossing the International Dateline on the night of Dec. 24, a day is skipped and when these child passengers awaken the day after the 24th it will be the 26th—and no Christmas. But Santa and ship's officers will make up for the loss with special festivities.

class of candidates for training as officers in the Navy and Marine Corps.

The Rev. Charles L. Palmer, retired clergyman, who died at his home in Kingston Tuesday morning, had a number of friends in the Shokan area, where he was formerly pastor of the Shokan Dutch Church. Dominic Palmer resigned the local pastorate in December, 1902, to go to the Reformed Church of the Comforter in Kingston, and preached his farewell sermon on December 28. His labors here prospered exceedingly (85 persons united with the church) and everyone liked him. The Rev. Mr. Palmer officiated at 40 weddings during his residence in Shokan.

It's a Fact: Bluestone quarrying and Northern Hurley were practically synonymous for nearly a century, and even today thousands of tons of this famous rock are being moved in the interests of a new state road through that part of the county. It was not so many years after the first settlers came to West Hurley that quarry-holes and rubbish piles began to appear here and there around the village. The industry grew with each passing year until, in 1880, large shipments were being made on heavy wagons and railroad flat-cars.

Luelus Lawson, for instance, employed 40 men in his quarries while Rufus Smedes had 20 hands on his payroll.

MT. MARION

“Mt. Marion, Dec. 19.—The Rev. Cornelius Otto of Poughkeepsie will preach in the Mt. Marion Church Sunday morning.

The body of Abram Schoonmaker of Hudson was interred in the Mt. Marion Cemetery Thursday.

A Christmas service will be held in the church Sunday, 8 p. m. This service will be sponsored by the senior choir and the Sunday school.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren T. Myer of Liberty and their son, Peter, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Warren D. Myer.

John Tisall and Walter Larson spent Wednesday at Lyndhurst, N. J., where they were called due to a death in the family.

The Ladies' Aid Society met at the home of Miss Bertha Snyder Thursday evening.

The Junior Service League members entertained their mothers at a Christmas party at the home of Eleanor Felton Monday evening.

The school will hold a Christmas party at the Mt. Marion center Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dederick spent Saturday at Englewood, N. J., and attended the wedding of John Paul Lynker and Sylvia Willaich.

Mt. Marion-Ruby Fire Company held a meeting at the Mt. Marion Inn Thursday night.

GARDINER

Gardiner, Dec. 19.—It has been announced that the Rosendale Electronic Co. will soon open a coil factory at the Gardiner Airport in the proposed building which will be constructed by Ted Wright. The building will be equipped with plumbing and heat and will be strictly modern. Water will be furnished by a driven well. This enterprise, at its beginning in the spring, will employ from 15 to 30 men and women. All help will be local and applications for employment may be made at any time. Other buildings to be used as airplane repair shops, equipped with all parts, will be built in the near future. An additional runway has been cleared which borders on Route 55. A large hangar was built last summer and houses several planes.

Between 40 and 50 ladies of the auxiliary met at the fireman's hall Monday evening. After the routine business session the meeting adjourned and a Christmas party followed. The large table was decorated with appropriate symbols and lighted candles and gifts. Members marched around the table and each picked a gift. After this refreshments were served. The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Anthony Bonagura and Mrs. Gilbert Bevier. Hostesses for the January meeting will be Mrs. Frank Butters, Mrs. William Burke and Mrs. Richard Clinton.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Schiro and three children left Tuesday morning for Independence, La., where they will visit relatives until after New Year's Day. They will attend the 50th wedding anniversary of Mrs. Schiro's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Dragotta on December 22.

Miss Helen Moran of Theills spent the week-end at her home here.

Mrs. Ivan Ostrander returned Monday after spending the past two weeks with relatives in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. David B. Wiese of Highland spent Sunday with Mr. Wiese's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Wiese.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pizzuto spent the week-end with relatives in New York.

Miss Grace Boland of Theills spent the week-end with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Denton.

Mrs. Edward Ose of Poughkeepsie spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Everts.

Mrs. Steve Harlow spent Tuesday in Poughkeepsie.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Decker of Theills were week end guests of Mrs. Decker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Decker.

Mrs. A. D. McKinstry and son Floyd attended the funeral and burial of Alfred Van Buren in Kingston Monday.

Gardiner Reformed Church — Sunday, 11 a. m., Christmas service of praise. Visitors are cordially invited. Sunday school, 10 a. m., and parents are requested to bring the children in order that preparations for the Sunday school Christmas program may be completed. The church choir, under the direction of Miss Marion DuBois, will present a Christmas candlelight service Sunday, 8 p. m. An offering will be taken which will go toward the purchase of new music for the new year. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Monday, 2 p. m., all Sunday school children who have parts in the Christmas program are asked to meet at the church for rehearsal. Tuesday, 8 p. m., annual Christmas program of the Sunday school at the church. Songs and recitations will be rendered and an interesting and devotional program is planned. Santa is expected to attend. Those attending are requested to bring some article of food wrapped in white paper. These white gifts will then be brought where they will aid in spreading Christmas cheer. Everyone in the vicinity of Gardiner is invited.

Santa Afraid of Mumps — Easton, Pa., Dec. 19 (AP)—The annual visit of Santa Claus to the Easton Children's Home has been called—because of an outbreak of mumps. Presents will be distributed from the home's junior auxiliary, however, hospital officials said.

In Naples, Italy

HENRY LEININGER

Henry S. Leininger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Leininger, 318 Lucas avenue, has arrived in Naples, Italy. He sailed on the U.S.S. Providence, November 1, and expects to be back in the States in six months.

Kids Raid Santa
Over Fake Gifts;
Cops Come to Aid

Glén Cove, N. Y., Dec. 19 (AP)—Santa's bag wasn't exactly empty when he paid a pre-Christmas visit here, but his "gift" packages were—and it took seven husky police to get him safely away from more than 1,000 disgruntled youngsters.

The kids were all aglow with anticipation when Santa arrived by train yesterday afternoon, with a 100-piece band on hand to greet him, but the affair began to take on the proportions of a riot not long afterwards.

Santa, whose name was not disclosed, was transported to the business district on a fancy sleigh-borne float burdened with mountains of "gift" parcels, fancily done by Chamber of Commerce workers, who sponsored the event.

However, it was necessary to move the float because of the peril to children from plate glass windows in the jammed area, and Santa hopped down. The excited children bowled him over and trampled him. Rescued by police, he smilingly passed out great loads of candy.

That wasn't enough. The kids thought they were to get the packages also. Santa demurred (because the empty boxes were fixed up only as decorations), and tried with a drooping smile to cover up with a vague reference to "presents for disabled veterans," drowned in the shouts and cries.

The youngsters snatched the boxes off the sleigh and feverishly tore them open. In great wrath they hurled them back at Santa upon finding them empty and gave him a mauling before police, led by the chief himself, spirited Kris Kringle to the safety of the police station.

Muttered one enraged and disillusioned lad: "Santa Claus is a liar."

Retired Merchant
Had $1,700,000 in Safe Deposit Box

Greenwich, Conn., Dec. 19 (AP)—Oliver Cooper, a retired Brooklyn, N. Y., clothing merchant, occupied a $10-a-week room during the seven years he lived here, and when he died the probate court listed his estate as "not exceeding $10,000" in value. His property was estimated to be worth a little more than $2,000.

But when appraisers of the estate opened his safe deposit box, it was disclosed yesterday, they found: Bank books for Greenwich and Brooklyn banks showing deposits of $827,210; bonds valued at $1,074,384; bonds worth $80,666 and mortgage notes for $5,063—an estate worth approximately $1,700,000.

Cooper, who died last July in Manchester, Vt., at the age of 77, left no will and only two known heirs, a niece, Isabel C. Malcolm of Palm Beach, Fla., and grandniece, Lorraine C. King of New York city.

Adirondack Transit
Lines Ruling Challenged

New York, Dec. 19 (Special)—A suit, asking that a recent Interstate Commerce Commission decision, granting the Adirondack Transit Lines, Inc., of Kingston permission to operate into New York city via the Lincoln tunnel, be repealed, was brought by the Hudson Transit Lines, Inc., of Mahwah, N. J., against the United States and the I.C.C. in Manhattan Federal Court Wednesday.

Claiming that the Adirondack Transportation Lines' operation under the I.C.C. order of July 8 would compete with its own route, the plaintiff, which operates lines in New York and New Jersey, wants the order annulled.

Objection is made by the plaintiff to the fact that the Adirondack Lines are now allowed to operate into New York, while its operations were formerly terminated at the New Jersey end of the 42nd Street ferry.

Hudson Transit Lines, Inc., operates in New Jersey and New York, running through Orange County, where it services Middletown and Newburgh.

As a safety measure in mine operations, compressed air is now substituted for explosives to break coal.

Additional Names Are Announced for Yule Cheer Show

Additional names of performers and others who will lend their assistance in putting on the program were announced today by the committee in charge of the Christmas cheer show Saturday at 7:30 p. m. in the Kingston Municipal Auditorium.

Joan Walsh and Betty Ann Thomas, tap dancers from the Cashin school, will do their specialty routines, accompanied by Letha Godey, pianist; Miss Wilfred Entrott and Collette Magnusson, well-known vocalists, will sing several selections.

As announced previously, musical selections will be played by Johnny Michaels and his 15-piece orchestra, and the master of ceremonies for the program will be Dick McCarthy, WKNY sports-caster.

There will be no admission, but a collection will be taken by the following ladies: Sandra Dolson, Ruth DeGroot, Jane Markle, Barbara Billings, Jeanne Anderson, Pearl Dawkins, Grace Morse, Joan Hennigan and Estelle Roach.

Court Still Hears Antpusat Case

Testimony was continued today in the action brought in Supreme court by John Antpusat against his brother, August Antpusat, for return of money which plaintiff claims he deposited with his brother over a period of years.

Defendant claims certain sums due him for board, payment of bills and other expenditures. This is the concluding case to be heard by Justice Isador Bookstein with a jury at this term.

No. 67, next on the calendar, was announced settled. This was an action brought by Robert S. Martin against Leonard J. Cross and another, a claim to real property. David W. Corwin for plaintiff and Peter H. Harp for defendant.

The Grand Jury will report on Tuesday next.

Lions Will Hold Party December 23

The annual Christmas party of the Kingston Lions Club will be held Tuesday, December 23 at the Governor Clinton Hotel at the club's regular luncheon meeting.

Kenneth Hick, chairman of arrangements estimates that between 75 and 100 children will attend the dinner, program of entertainment and presentation of gifts.

Each member is asked to bring at least one child as a guest for the dinner and party. The gifts will be left at the hotel Monday.

About the Folks

The condition of Dr. John A. Comstock, 317 Lucas avenue, was reported as good today by attendants at Kingston Hospital.

Russell J. Harlow, 6 St. James street, a linotype operator at the Leader Company, entered Kingston Hospital early this week for a rest and check-up. His condition was reported as good by hospital authorities today.

On Tea Plants

Tea plants begin to yield commercial crops about five years after planting and sometimes continue to yield for 100 years or more.

Insulation Saves Fuel

The University of Illinois has found that full-thickness insulation in walls and roof area of an average two-story house will save 32 percent of the annual fuel bill.

Tax Assessments Are Checked in Woodstock

Woodstock, Dec. 19.—J. P. Lasher, assessment examiner, Department of Taxation and Finance, State of New York, and his assistant, J. K. Nelson met in the town clerk's office this morning with town assessors, Harry Kutzschbach, Leslie Elwyn and William Wilber, for the purpose of a routine check of tax assessments.

A report of Mr. Lasher's findings will be submitted to the Department of Taxation and Finance and recommendations if any made in due course to the local assessors.

There is reason to believe that assessment investigation now being made throughout the county will result in a new equalization rate for Ulster county, it was said. The present rate is reported to be 55 per cent.

Keis Would Change Well Boring Locale

Woodstock, N. Y., Dec. 19.—F. G. Keis, consulting engineer, arrived in Woodstock late yesterday and made an examination of boring samples taken by Harold Lapo, who is in charge of the drilling for the new water system to be installed in the town. In Mr. Keis' opinion the drilling is being done in an expected and he has suggested that borings in another location be started.

False Alarm

The burglar alarm at O'Connor Brothers, wholesale liquor distributors, 49 East Strand, began ringing at 4:10 p. m. Thursday, police reported. Patrolmen James Burns and Earl Schoonmaker were dispatched in a radio car to investigate, and reported everything in order. The alarm continued to ring, however, and police notified the firm, which sent for a maintenance man, who turned the bell off, and restored the alarm system to working order.

Automobile Fire

Fire broke out in a 1933 Chevrolet owned and operated by Robert Lee, 349 Washington avenue, shortly after 7 o'clock this morning, according to the fire department report. A box alarm from the corner of Washington avenue and North Front street was rung, and five pieces of apparatus responded from the Central and Wiltwyck stations. The fire, which firemen said was caused by a backfire, was extinguished with chemicals.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—Selective progress was achieved in today's stock market, with some oils and special issues doing well, but numerous leaders, continued to seek lower levels.

Slowdowns were frequent after a fairly active opening. Mild irregularity was the rule near the fourth hour.

Adjustment of accounts for the week-end, together with further delayed tax selling, served as a handicap. Professionals bought here and there on the hope a late December rally would be inspired by reinvestment demand. Skeptics regarding anti-inflation legislation and foreign affairs trimmed accounts.

At highs for 1947 were Texas Gulf Producing and Chicago Corp. Ahead most of the time were Mission Corp., Pacific Western Oil, Southern Railway, Southern Pacific, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, United Aircraft, General Motors and Studebaker.

American Can hit bottom for the year. Backward at intervals were Great Northern Railway, Union Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio, Goodyear, Boeing, International Harvester, duPont, American Telephone, Western Union, American Smelting, Woolworth and American Woolen.

Bonds were narrow. Grains dipped on the better than expected government wheat forecast.

SEPARATE PEACE ONLY—

How long is it going to take Stalin and Molotov to show Harry Truman and George C. Marshall that they can't do business with the Soviets?

From the date of its original announcement, the London Big Four conference was doomed to virtual failure. Soviet conduct had made it clear that the U.S.S.R. would agree to little we could afford to accept.

In a way the Soviets have won another little victory by the conference, because it delayed any peace negotiations by several months, thereby prolonging chaos and making more difficult any restoration of European economy.

While Communists are masters at stirring up artificial trouble, the chaos of a stateless Germany provides something better in the form of real trouble.

All during the London conference, Red agents have been "striking" French and Italian sources of production. These strikes alone are estimated to have cost more than the emergency aid Congress is providing for those two countries.

The only sensible policy for us these many months would have been to issue an ultimatum to the Soviets to come on and let's get the German-Austrian peace problem settled, or else we would set up our own separate program. Some of us have been urging this kind of diplomacy for a long time.

Now, after many months of delay, prolonging chaos, underproduction and actual starvation in Europe, the State Department is forced to follow this course.

Failure of the London conference will leave no other choice than for Britain, France and U. S. to disregard Russia and set up governments in Germany and Austria separate from the Soviet zones.

Time for Action

The German peace problem offers a close parallel to that of Korea. In either country the Soviets would be willing to set up a unified government if they could have it their way. We wanted a unified government in each country, but we demanded free elections, and to right of outside observers to look in on such elections inside Soviet zones.

Molotov and Stalin said no go. That would raise the curtain on Soviet money business in Eastern Germany and North Korea.

We still are trying to force this solution in the matter of Korea but we should know by now the U.S.S.R. will never stand for it. If in Korea we are foolish enough to agree to a central government without establishing adequate safeguards over elections—supposing such safeguards to be possible—we shall see a solid bloc of "elected" Communists representing North Korea. This bloc will attempt to win either by eventually establishing a Red dictatorship over all Korea or by obstructing and stalemating the efforts of any Korean government to rehabilitate the ravaged peninsula.

After the London failure, we—the French, British and Americans—now must go directly into peace negotiations with Japan, South Korea, Western Germany and that part of Austria occupied by us. In each case we should aid the setting up of provisional governments and then recognize these governments as the voice of all the people of their respective nations.

Headache for Stalin

Admittedly such separatism will not solve the economic problem arising from disjointed resources. Western Germany still will not be able to get food out of its traditional breadbasket over in the Soviet zone or production from the mines and factories of Upper Silesia.

But neither can Western Germany get these commodities by any other arrangement except surrender to Stalin.

What better solution is there than a separate peace and separate governments? This has been the only choice ever since we made the mistake of inviting the Red Army to take and occupy the productive sectors of these betrayed countries.

Give Western Germany its own government and it will at least have the benefit of unity. It will be vigorously anti-Communist and will perhaps regain confidence and self-respect and get down to hard work. It might so influence those Germans under the heel of Stalin as to make the Red Czar sick of his occupation job.

Caused Trade Decline

The famous U. S. China trade of the Clipper era declined when the California gold rush drew fast ships into the round-the-horn passenger trade and other ships entered the trans-Atlantic field, carrying Irish immigrants from their famine-stricken country.

Methodist Circuit Services Planned

Olive Bridge, Dec. 18—Services in the Olive Bridge Methodist circuit were announced today by the Rev. A. W. Conklin, pastor. The programs follow:

Olive Bridge—Sunday school, 10 a. m.; worship service, 11 a. m., with message by the pastor on "The Star of Bethlehem." The choir will render special Christmas music and Thomas Sahibbeck will give a Christmas selection on the violin accompanied by Miss Lois Gray at the church. The Sunday school will present its annual Christmas entertainment Sunday, 8 p. m., with recitations, songs, carols and other features. Instrumental music will include the organ with Miss Lois Gray playing and the violin by Mr. Sahibbeck. Mrs. Ezra Silkworth, school superintendent, will conduct the entertainment. Gifts will be presented to the children at the close of the program. The public is invited. Christmas Eve a group of young people and adults will go through the village singing carols, as has been the custom in the past.

Samsonville—Church services, 2:30 p. m., instead of 7:30 p. m. A Christmas message will be given by the pastor and the congregation will join in the singing of favorite carols. The congregation is invited to attend the annual Sunday school entertainment at Olive Bridge at 8 p. m. The Christmas entertainment of this church and the Samsonville district school will be held Tuesday, 6 p. m., in the church. The public is invited.

C. Franklin Pierce Gives Organ Recital Of Christmas Music

The Music Appreciation Group of the Y.W.C.A. Women's Club entertained Thursday afternoon at a Christmas musical and tea with organ selections by C. Franklin Pierce, director of music, at St. James Methodist Church. The recital was sponsored by the Sanctuary Choir of the church and was attended by approximately 75 members and guests of the group. Members of the Women's Club and Kingston Musical Society had been invited.

As is usual when attending St. James Church the organ music was beautiful and most fitting for the season of the year. Mr. Pierce chose a program of lovely carols, several French, and brought the program to a reverent close with the great Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's "Messiah."

Before he played each number Mr. Pierce explained some of the background of the composer and a bit about the registrations he would use to give the effects which he believed the writer desired.

These included the Carol from Lorelei for Flutes by Louis-Claude d'Aquin; Christmas in Sicily by Pietro Yon, registrations to represent the bagpipes; and March of the Magi Kings by Theodore Dubois in which the star in the East is depicted by a sustained, high note against the rhythmic melody representing the caravan.

He also played the Cradle song, Slumber My Beloved, from Bach's "Christmas Oratorio," Noel Langueoicien, a carol from Southern France, arranged by Alexandre Guilmant, and Scherzo from Guilmant's "Fifth Sonata for Organ."

Mrs. Harry G. Smith, president of the Music Appreciation Group, welcomed the members and guests and introduced Mrs. Raymond Craft, program chairman, who in turn introduced Mrs. Ralph Harper who was in charge of the program for the day. She introduced Mr. Pierce.

Afterward tea was served with Mrs. Robert P. Pixley in charge. Presiding at the tea table which was arranged for the Christmas season were Mrs. Harry G. Smith, Mrs. Byron Chatham, Mrs. Douglas Smith and Miss Helen Sheldon. Requests were made to Mr. Pierce to repeat the recital some evening when those who are working during the day will be able to attend.

Power Boat Group Party
All members of Kingston Power Boat Association intending to be present at the Christmas party Sunday night are asked to call Joseph Bechtold, chairman, 4384, not later than Sunday afternoon.

Clinton Avenue Party Tonight
The Christmas party of Clinton Avenue Methodist Church School including the junior, primary and adult departments will be held tonight in Epworth Hall.

Kiwanis Yule Party Enjoyed by Youngsters

The Christmas party given for 78 boys and girls by the Kingston Kiwanis Club in the Governor Clinton Hotel Thursday night was described by those in charge as "the best in a long time." Gifts were presented to the youngsters who ranged in age from eight to 13 years, and they helped make part of their own program by joining in choral singing. Several of them also sang solos and duets. The program, arranged by the club, included Fred L. Van Deusen, local magician, cartoon movies and the presentation of gifts by Santa Claus. Paul Zucca and Daniel Bittner assisted in the musical part of the program. The announcement that Mr. Van Deusen would entertain was greeted with cheers and his performance was one of the highlights of the program. Kiwanians William F. Leehive, president-elect of the club, and William Murray favored the audience with solos. The program was arranged under supervision of Clarence S. Rowland, chairman of the club's boys' and girls' committee, who was master of ceremonies. The boys and girls were escorted separately by members of the club to the hotel. They were guests of the club for dinner at 6 p. m., and the entertainment which began after the serving of the dinner, was concluded at 8:30 p. m. The next two meetings of Kiwanis, December 24 and December 31, will be with the Rotary Club. (Freeman Photo)

The congregation will join in the singing of carols. Santa Claus will distribute gifts.

The Jacob Parnetts Entertain For Silver Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Parnett of the Hurley road entertained at a dinner party Sunday in honor of their silver wedding anniversary. The party was attended by 20 guests from Kingston, Highland, New York, Florida and California and was held in the social hall of Agudas Achim, Isidore Finkel of New York, brother of Mrs. Parnett, assisted in receiving the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Parnett were married in Kingston, and have made their home here. They operate a general farm on the Hurley road. Mrs. Parnett is the former Miss Miriam Finkel of New York.

Decorations for the party were in keeping with the occasion and included an anniversary cake. They received many gifts and congratulations.

Clinton Avenue Organ To Be Ready Sunday

"The new organ at Clinton Avenue Methodist Church will be ready for use Sunday," the Rev. William R. Peckham, pastor, announced this morning. It will still need adjustments following the Christmas season but the church will have organ music for the first time since November 1946. The morning service is at 11 o'clock.

The organ will be dedicated early in the New Year and will be in memory of the Rev. George M. Cranston who served the church from 1914 to 1923. His daughter, Miss Caroline Ruel of Newburgh will be guest soloist Sunday. She is a student at Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky., and would not be able to make the trip for the dedication service. Miss Ruel will sing "The Good Shepherd" by O'Donnato Earl.

Mrs. Raymond Ingersoll is organist at the church and the choir is under the direction of Miss Amy Louise Millonig. The organ will also be used at the 5 o'clock candlelight service Sunday afternoon, when "The Story of Christmas" will be given in pageant form under the direction of Mrs. Harold Bunting.

Lake Katrine Home Bureau Has Christmas Party
Lake Katrine Home Bureau held its Christmas party Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. William Hooke, Jr., of Lake Katrine. Eight charter members of the group were honored and presented with book marks. The group was organized in 1929.

The evening was spent in singing Christmas carols, led by Mrs. Ralph Halbert accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Donald Parish. Recitations were given by Mrs. Hooke, Mrs. Halbert and Mrs. Donald Parish.

An exchange of Secret Pal gifts followed and each revealed herself. Refreshments were served by the refreshment committee to the 32 attending the party.

El Salvador is about twice the size of Vermont.

Wassaic Girls Are Guests of Junior Married Women's Club

The girls from the Wassaic State School Colony were guests of honor of the Junior Married Women's Club at the Y.W.C.A. Thursday night for a Christmas party. The evening included playing of many games, entertainment by A. Farrell, a professional magician, and singing of Christmas carols. Santa Claus impersonated by Kenneth Great distributed gifts.

The guests included Dolores Andertoni, Anna Bodt, Alice Bernstein, Florence Cantone, Pearl Cohen, Hazel Keene, Irene Leyden, Mary Mackey, Sophie Muldonovan, Irene Meves, Harriet O'Dell, Dorothy Speed, Edna Sienkiewicz, Gladys Springsteel, Marie Walsh, Evelyn May, Mrs. Carrie Martin, superintendent of the colony and her grandson, Robert Martin.

Mrs. Edward DeGroot was general chairman for the evening. Mrs. Paul Gardner, chairman of awards for the games; Mrs. John Schomer, refreshments; Mrs. William Costello, hospitality; Mrs. C. C. Stickle, music. Other members assisting were Mrs. Daniel Great, Mrs. Jay Molyneaux, Mrs. Charles Miller, Mrs. Edward McCabe, Mrs. Robert Brown and Miss Antone, one of the guests also assisted.

The next meeting of the club will be January 8.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

HOUSE GUESTS TIP, OF COURSE

Because of shortness of space, a seemingly unimportant paragraph was omitted from my answer to the question of whether it was correct for a house guest to tip the servants. My comment that the owner of a certain great house who, disliking to have tips given to his household, puts a notice in each of his guest rooms saying that he himself gives a visitor-bonus to obviate the giving of tips, has brought many letters asking if this means that tipping servants is no longer expected—or even proper—on the part of a house guest.

As already noted, the offering of gratuities to the one—or the many—who waited on you in a friend's house is as much of an exacting as it ever has been.

A Tactful "No"

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if there is any way to be tactful and say "No" at the same time? I don't know what to say when my cousin, who is just my size, comes in and asks to borrow my things. I felt sorry for her once when she needed a dress badly and that is how it all started. Is there any way I can refuse without hurting her feelings?

Answer: "I know of nothing except frankly saying you are sorry but they are your best things and you really cannot lend them. This, I think, is the best solution, since pretended excuse of any sort is like a lie which always trips you in the end."

Tablecloths Without Matching Napkins

Dear Mrs. Post: I received several beautiful white linen tablecloths as wedding presents. Unfortunately, however, there were no matching napkins with any of these. Could you please tell me what kind of napkins to buy? Some of the cloths have a pattern and some are plain.

Answer: If any match (even approximately), you can cut one into napkins for the other. Otherwise, the nearest match to each that you can find is the answer.

"Miss" Improper for Divorcee

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me the correct way to address a woman who is divorced and who calls herself "Miss. Maidenname."

Answer: You will have to address her by the name she has chosen. In business, "Miss" is permissible, but socially it is very bad form. Correctly, she should be addressed "Mrs. Maidenname-Husband's name."

Games For Greeting The Grand New Year

New Year's Eve is one night you want to spend with special friends and what better way than to have a party?

Rolling games are an important part of any get-together and especially for New Year's Eve. A good game for the unmarried set is "Marriage Circle." Tack up a large round cardboard divided into twelve sections marked with the months of the year.

Blindfold each person in turn and let him (and her) stick a pin into the card.

The month so marked is the time to expect a marriage BUT if the pin lands on a line, it can easily mean another year of solitary.

Another cutie-game gets under way with the guests listing their New Year's resolutions. Put them into a hat so everyone can fish for a new list.

When read aloud, Uncle Ned is promising to cold-cream his face every night. Mary-Lou has limited herself to one pipe a day, and Jack vows not to hang his nylons in the bathroom.

There are seeds of wonderful games for food parties in our Reader Service booklet No. 60. Word games, fortunes, team relays, children's stunts, snack suggestions, Valentine ideas to think about now.

Send 25¢ (coin) for "Games for Good Parties" to The Kingston Daily Freeman, Reader Service, 243 West 17th street, New York 11, N. Y. Print name, address with zone, booklet title and No. 60.

Less Coal Used

Although the United States used about six times as much power delivered through public utility plants in 1943 as it did in 1918, it used only about twice as much coal to produce that power.

Like Black Tea

Before World War I about 70 per cent of the tea drunk in the United States was green, but by 1941, national preferences had so changed that about 90 per cent of that used was black.

Invasion Welcome

Cuzco, capital of the Inca Empire in Peru, had 200,000 residents when Francisco Pizarro and his men invaded it.

Quite a Taste

An expert tea taster can identify between 1,500 and 1,600 different teas, telling where each was grown, what variety it is, what season of the year it was picked, how it was processed, what it should cost and how it should be blended.

Export Was Same

Brazil exported about as much rubber in 1920 as it did in 1910, but in 1910, the 16 to 20 thousand-ton export was 90 per cent of the world supply and in 1920 it was about 10 per cent.

High Falls Students Plan Christmas Program Tonight

High Falls, Dec. 19—There will be a Christmas carol sing and program in the High Falls firehall tonight starting at 8 o'clock. The teachers, Mrs. Bernice A. Jansen, Margaret Hamm and Miss Minerva Schwartz and the school children will present the program and the Mother's Club and the firemen are taking charge of decorations and candy gifts to the children. Morris Davenport has donated the Christmas tree for the event.

Those taking part are as follows: Recitations, William Lambertson, Michelle Frear, Victor Stella, Florence Schleede, Ruth Gauslaa, Carols, primary room, grammar school girls with Inge Koenig and Ruth Turner as soloists; Kenneth Tokle, George Smith and Donald Peacor. The audience will open the program with carol singing.

The primary room will close the program with the song, Santa Claus.

The public is cordially invited to attend the program. Children will return to school following the Christmas vacation on Monday, January 5.

Donovan Says Appeasement Not Conducive to Peace

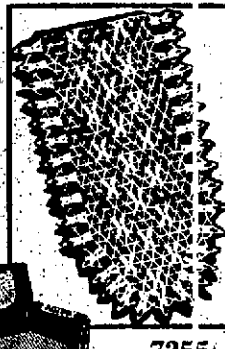

Philadelphia, Dec. 19 (AP)—"The United States will never get peace by appeasement and it is up to the public to put an end to such attempts," says Maj. Gen. William J. Donovan, wartime head of the U. S. Office of Strategic Services. Donovan told members of the Overbrook Lecture Club last night, "the public must pressure the government in revealing the names of the cliques in Washington okaying shipments of materials to Russia"—materials which, he declared, "could be used by our friends abroad."

Donovan added that while "Russia is waging a cold war against us" that country is "not ready now for a real war."

Mrs. Coogan Dies At 86; Recluse Worth 20 Millions

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—Mrs. Harriet G. Coogan, 86, whose New York real estate holdings were valued at an estimated $20,000,000, died yesterday in her hotel suite where she had lived a virtual recluse for the last 40 years.

Mrs. Coogan's property included the Polo Grounds, which she leased to the New York National League baseball team.

The wealthy widow of James Jay Coogan, prominent Tammany politician at the turn of the century, shut herself in her hotel room a generation ago after being snubbed, it was said, at the time, by social leaders of fashionable Newport, R. I.

The legend of the social snub grew out of a dinner party which Mrs. Coogan gave in Newport in celebration of her daughter's debut. She invited the leaders of the swank resort's social set but not one guest appeared, it was said.

The story was that Mrs. Coogan then walked out of the mansion and never set foot in Newport again. In 1945, 35 years after the snub, the house was sold and torn down.

Polish Mixture

A mixture of two-thirds boiled linseed oil and two-thirds turpentine is an excellent polish to use at least once or twice a year on varnished and oiled furniture. Apply the mixture with a soft cloth, then wipe off all excess polish with a clean cloth. Polish the surface by rubbing along the grain of the wood until it is thoroughly dry and the fingers leave no mark on the surface.

Other Tea Parties

The famous Boston Tea Party of Dec. 16, 1773 was followed by six other tea-dunking incidents throughout the colonies.

Too Many Dogs Ruin Health of Warden

Gig Harbor, Wash., Dec. 19 (AP)—Joe Chandler, 88 year old Gig Harbor retired fisherman, had for many years gathered up and cared for the town's stray dogs.

Last week he left 12 canines behind when he was brought to a

Tucoma hospital after being taken ill. The dogs broke loose, and spread all over this harbor town. City Marshal Robert Mitchell went out after the yelping, howling, food-foraging pack. Today he's in the hospital, too—from overwork in chasing the dogs. Attending physicians say he'll be there several weeks. The dogs finally were rounded up by Humane Society officers.

Morton Outpoints Russ Dungy; K.H.S. Meets Fallsburg Tonight

Albany Bantam Outhustles Foe In Main Event

Harold Morton's good luck charm remained inviolate in the municipal auditorium ring last night when the popular Albany bantamweight shaded Russ Dungy, highly regarded Utica prospect, in the main event of five rounds.

Morton weighed 128 to Dungy's 124.

The decision in Morton's favor was unanimous with Referee Emmett Ryan and Judges Bill Singer and Fred Eisler voting for the Albanian.

Morton won on sheer aggressiveness, since neither of the two cuties was able to inflict any serious damage on the other. Dungy flashed an effective straight right at the start of the fight but for some unexplained reason suddenly stopped throwing it.

It was a close joust for three rounds but Morton's superior weight and strength began to tell in the fourth. A series of solid smashes to Dungy's body and head ruffled the composure of the cool looking Utican. Both came out fast in the fifth but Morton maintained a slight edge.

Raven Score Mayo
Cy Cummings, 169, Poughkeepsie, who perpetrated a spectacular knockout over Joe Ausanio on the last card, found himself on the other end last night.

Cummings, a rangy, good looking prospect with a potent right hand wallop, was doing alright against rugged Buck Raven, 175, Utica, when he ran into a terrific right hand and was poleaxed in 1:45 of the first round.

Paul Hawks, 145, Beacon, made the fans laugh as usual with his clowning, rope bouncing and occasional bursts of wrestling but Bobby King, 149, of Amsterdam, did a lot better on the serious side and walked off with an easy five round decision.

Other results:
Jimmy Malatino, 140, Johnstown, outpointed Freddie O'Neal, 139, of Schenectady, in five rounds.
Jack Harris, 161, Schenectady, decided Dick Tuttle, 157, Gloversville, in three rounds.

Jimmy Davis, 122, Poughkeepsie, outpointed Howard Keyes, 118, Utica, in three rounds.
Johnny Affronti, 148, Poughkeepsie scored technical knockout over Fred Harris, 145, of Utica, in 53 seconds of the third round of the curtain raiser.

Three referees worked the card—Bob Steele, Joe Yordik and Emmett Ryan. The judges were Fred Eisler and Bill Singer. Morton Finch was the timekeeper.

Ski Trails

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 19 (AP)—Four northern centers report good skiing conditions this week and five others offer fair skiing.
The State Commerce Department listed these snow conditions as of yesterday:

Bear Mountain—No skiing.
Cooperstown—3 inch powder on 5 inch granular base. Skiing fair.
Lake Placid—6 powder and 6 hard base. Skiing good.

North Creek—3 powder on 9 old base. Skiing fair.
Old Forge—7 powder on 15 old base. Skiing fair.

Saranac Lake—5 powder on 5 old base. Skiing good.
Sharon Springs—3 frozen snow. Skiing poor.

Snow Ridge, Turin—8 powder on 5 hard base. Skiing good.
Speculator—7 powder on 10 settled base. Skiing good.

South Colton—Powder on 2 hard crust. Skiing fair.
South Corinth—1 powder on 4 to 6 granular base. Skiing fair to poor, tows running.

Youngstown, Ohio—Tony Janiro, 150%, Youngstown, outpointed Myron Siegel, 159%, Chicago, 10.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa.—Jimmy King, 148, Buffalo, N. Y., outpointed Tony Riccio, 151, Bayonne N. J., 8.

A Confident Yankee

Arthur "Red" Patterson, left, shown with Charles J. Tiano, president of the Kingston Athletic Association, was in high spirits at the KAA meeting this week. Patterson predicted a New York pennant in the 1948 American League race despite the acquisition of Joe McCarthy, and several stars by the Boston Red Sox. Patterson said the Sox would be stronger than in 1947, but pointed out that pennants seldom are bought. (Freeman Photo)

Patrolman Peter Camp reported to police headquarters that Mrs. Zachariah Maroon, 100 Broadway, backed her car into a parking meter in front of Reher's Bakery, 101 Broadway, at 8:50 p. m. Thursday. The meter stanchion was bent over slightly. Camp said.

St. James Scores 103

Three players registered 30 points or better as the St. James quintet ran up the first 100 point basketball total of the season last night, overwhelming St. Peters, 103-30.

The St. James club ran up a 40-13 margin in the first half and really poured it on after the intermission with 60 points. In all they connected with 48 deuces and seven conversions.

Frank Ebelheiser set the pace with 32 points, Guercio had 31 and Van Wagener furnished 30. Kearney tossed in 12 for the bewildered St. Peters.

Newest DUSO Entry Appears At Auditorium

Fallsburg Central, a DUSO League newcomer and a club that could be the "sleeper" in the circuit challenges Kingston High School's 18-game winning streak on the municipal auditorium boards tonight at 8:30.

The Sullivan county basketball experts rate the Cornets right up with Monticello and Liberty as chief threats to Kingston's domination of the league.

The first major test of the season on the home boards finds the Maroon squad in excellent physical condition and ready to settle down for the long pennant grind.
Coach Elias will go with the "Big Five" of Mike Rienzo, Ken Lowe, Big Ed Weaver, Joe Albany and Bob Gear, with Harry Koch as the No. 1 replacement.
Not too much information is available on the individual stars of the Fallsburg squad but in Kopatz, a forward the Cornets appear to have one of the better scorers in the DUSO. He unloaded 17 against Port Jervis which was the best individual performance on opening night.

A Jayvee preliminary between the two schools is scheduled to start at 7 o'clock.

The tentative lineups:
Kingston: Kopatz, f; Rienzo, c; Moss, g; Weaver, g; Albany, g; Gear, g.
Fallsburg: Kopatz, f; Moss, c; Rienzo, g; Nosenchuk, g; Kearish, g.

Pittsburgh—Al Gualteri, 131, Washington, Pa. awarded decision over Billy Gillan, 133, Homestead, Pa. (Gillan disqualified in 6th round for "not fighting.")

Harris Does Not Fear New Bosox

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—Bucky Harris, who declares he did not develop those deep lines on his forehead through worry, says that the recent player raids engineered by the millionaire Boston Red Sox upon weaker American League clubs have not caused him to lose a single night's sleep.

The suave manager of the World Champion New York Yankees told newspapermen that he was optimistic about his team's chances to repeat and was not the least bit impressed by Boston's acquisition of shortstop Junior Stephens and pitchers Jack Kramer and Ellis Kinder from the St. Louis Browns and outfielder Stan Spence from Washington.

"It looks to me," Bucky grinned at a news conference yesterday, "like the Red Sox are serious in their efforts to try to beat out the Detroit Tigers for second place."
Harris handed out some optimistic reports about Joe DiMaggio, Spud Chandler and Charley Keller, the trio of convalescents who have undergone operations during the off-season. DiMaggio and Chandler had spurs removed from their right elbows and Keller had a disc removed from his spine.

Bowling

Evelyn Moore, the Blonde Bomber, led a high scoring spree in the Colonial Women's League Wednesday night with a pair of 200s and 173 for a sparkling 588 series.

Team scoring was on the hefty side with Smith Avenue Storage getting 2501 and the Mayorettes picking a net 2577 count.

Evelyn Francis, anchor for Smith's, knocked off a 223 single and 553 triple. Edith Bruck posted 503 for Phelans; Edna Petersen had 184-480; Carrie Mahr clicked 179-483. Rita LaRocca hit 180-516 and Marge Jensen, that jewel of consistency, had 509.

Charlotte Lapine showed she has regained a fair measure of her pre-illness form with 211-492 and Bea Barley clipped 566 with 205 and 186.

In compiling 2577, the Mayorettes checked for games of 868, 844 and 865. Evelyn Dolson, who starred in Emerick's Tuesday night, was still smoking hot, reeling off games of 198-183-196 for 577, second best series of the night. Dot Rawling splashed a 224 single and 530 triple while winsome Betty Boyce opened fast with 212 and wound up with 532.

Dolson Paces Emericks

Evelyn Dolson's 557 set the pace in the Tuesday night loop, firing games of 151-176-180 for 557. Dot Rawling had another good night with 212-527. Bea Barley hit 172-178-483; Marge Jensen 471; Rita Frederick 464; and Jo Smith 210-482.

Mayone Hits 616

Ralph Mayone's 616 triple was the highest recorded in the Catholic League, the St. Joseph's ace piling up 400, 211 and 186.

John Schatzel shot 539. Ed Schupp slumped off to 504; R. Henry 197-520; J. Smith 524; Jack Watzke 223-527; Bob Watzke 202-506; Joe Enright 582; Joey Mannello 234-592 and Andy Gilday 203-552.

Lehman Leads Midnite

R. Lehman was out in front in the Midnite circuit with a 180-184-102-505 performance. D. Peterson flanked 444 with 202 and 201 for 547; V. Clearwater posted 527; Phil Corrado 211-558; J. Kocile 208-524; T. Welch 530 and T. Amato 508.

Original Philly

The original city of Philadelphia in what is now Trans-Jordan was named for its conqueror, Ptolemy Philadelphus.

Horse Racing Suffers Big Slump in Nation

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—The growing tendency of the American citizens to tighten his purse-strings was reflected today in figures from the nation's race tracks which showed more people went out to watch the horses run this year but wagered $158,946,680 less money than in 1946 on the outcome.

The Associated Press' annual year-end racing survey disclosed a marked trend away from the promiscuous on-the-nose spending that characterized the lush period following World War II.

Reports from 21 racing states showed 25,704,853 paid admission to the various run-for-gold emporiums during 1947 and betted out $1,671,340,795 attempting to pick winners.

These figures lose much of their impact when measured by last year's batch which show 21,858,505 poured $1,930,287,435 through mutual windows.

Ohio State, Iowa Biggest Grid Disappointments

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—California, Purdue and Southern Methodist are rated the most improved football teams of 1947 in the annual Associated Press' season-end poll of writers, coaches and athletic directors. The same group tabbed Ohio State and Iowa as the greatest disappointments.

Rated on the basis of recovery after a shaky start, the honors would have gone to North Carolina, Oregon and Alabama which

HIGHLAND NEWS

Highland, Dec. 19.—Mrs. Franklin Welker and Mrs. Lottie Smith spent Wednesday in New York.

Frank Achille, John Graham and Edward Shaffer appeared before the Town Board at the regular meeting Friday evening to complain of flood water in cellars of their home on Leonta Court and Meadow street. While the members did not think it was their work to take care of the conditions, they commissioned the property holders to ascertain some plan and the cost of controlling the water. Bruff Olin was also present regarding a bill for mechanical items which concerned Frank Marx, water district superintendent, who was not present.

Barney Di Prima appeared regarding the return to him of the money which he put up on his bond while installing sewage connections up the North road. The incoming road superintendent, Alen Decker, asked for information as to the pay of highway workers. The board decided not to increase the pay at this time. A complaint had come in about the icy steps of the subway from Main to White street. This was to be referred to Mr. Bogart, county superintendent of highways, with the request that the conditions be remedied and taken care of. The monthly bills presented were audited and ordered paid.

The annual concert presented by students in the high school at Christmas time was given Thursday evening with the following program, directed by Miss Shirley Sharrock, music director: Overture, Fortuna, Zamecnik, band; professional, Adele Fiddis, chorus; also solo, The Sleigh, Birthday of a King, Nellie Dimsey; band, Christmas Festival, DeLaMater; clarinet solo, Peppering, Edresen, Thomas Giangrosso; double quartet, 12th Mass, Mozart, Carol Clarke, Marjorie Cook, Raymond Minard, William Kurtz, Joan Fampinella, Nellie Dimsey, Jay Heaton, Louis Taranta; Glee club, Panis Angelicus, Caesar Francis; band, A Merry Christmas, English carol, Agnus Dei, Bizet; chorus, Christmas Hymn, 17th century, Katherine Patrick, Dorothy Beckvermitt, Joseph A. Crimi, John Phillips; saxophone solo, Carol of the Bells, Leontovich, La Paloma, Vradier, Leonard; piano solo, Pastoral Symphony, Carol Clarke; duet, He Shall Feed His Flock, Marjorie Cook, Jean D'Antonio; band, White Christmas.

Mrs. Franklin Welker entertained the Evening Study Club Monday with Mrs. A. W. Lent, Mrs. Edgar Boyce, Matthew Busch, Mrs. Oliver Tillson, Mrs. C. W. # Senator Wicks on Students' Radio Forum

Featured on the regular Thursday night forum presented over WKNY, Senator Arthur H. Wicks answered questions on state government presented by students of the Myron J. Michael School. From left are Douglas Buddenhagen, Don Vache, Arlene Crow, Senator Wicks, Miss Mary M. Kelly of the school faculty, David Raible, Dorothy Tarr and Barbara Ewig. Miss Kelly who has charge of preparing the weekly radio programs was moderator for the one with Senator Wicks as the guest. The students found the senator his usual informal self, ready and willing for the bombardment before the microphone, and he observed "that the future of the state and nation is safe in the hands of such wide awake youngsters as the panel of six that queried him over the air." Comments from radio listeners were to the effect that the program was one of the most interesting of the series offered by the school as an extra curricular activity. (Freeman Photo)

Lack of Building Materials Holds Up Projects in Ulster

Lack of building materials is delaying major construction projects which would be of benefit to Kingston and Ulster county, Senator Arthur H. Wicks told students of the Myron J. Michael School on a local radio forum last night.

Inquiries from the students stressed the following opinions of the senator:

1. That Governor Thomas E. Dewey will be a candidate for the presidency.
2. That more women should participate in public affairs through the holding of public office.
3. That Republicans are given jobs in the county highway department for the same reason that only Democrats were given jobs in the city under Mayor Edelmuth.
4. That the senator is in favor of the teachers' promotional plan, but stressed that if it does not work out it can be changed.

The senator also indicated that if materials are available work may start on the bridge over the Hudson river from the city to Rhinecliff one year from next spring, and that the Broadway railroad crossing is definitely scheduled for elimination.

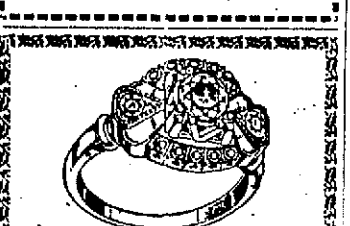

The crossing project, like certain construction work on the state-wide thruway, was being hampered by lack of materials, the senator said, but these and other projects in the area will start when the materials are available. The delay in each instance, he said, is due to the fact that the materials are currently needed for housing and other essential building.

Asked why such projects as the crossing elimination were not started before the shortage of building materials, the senator said they were held up then because of insufficient funds.

Miss Mary Kelly, teacher at the M.J.M. School, was moderator on the program which was broadcast over Radio Station WKNY. The students participating were Barbara Ewig, Dorothy Tarr, Arlene Crow, David Raible, Douglas Buddenhagen and Donald Vasche.

Italian Girl Arrives To Find G.I. Fiance Dead
New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—Twenty-one-year-old Maria Formicola's dreams of a new world and life with her American G. I. fiance crumbled before tragedy soon after she arrived yesterday aboard the liner Vulcania from her native Italy.

Dressed in her prettiest clothes and wearing a new hairdo, she eagerly scanned the waiting pier crowds for a glimpse of James McIntosh, 19, of Guerrant, Ky., an Army veteran whom she met in Italy during the war and whom she had come to America to marry.

Then, the ship's chaplain gently took Maria's arm and guided her to a cabin. There she was told young McIntosh had been killed in an automobile accident Dec. 6.

The ship line said McIntosh's family had wired that it would be unable to post the bond necessary to keep the girl in this country and that she would be sent to Ellis Island for probable return to Italy.

City Hall Operators Must Abandon Color

Los Angeles, Dec. 19 (AP)—Elevator operators in the City Hall have been ordered to adhere to a policy of calling floors by their numbers only.

Building Superintendent Ralph Hoffman said the instructions were issued after he received reports that some operators were, with some pessimism, calling out "War Department" for the floor where divorce courts are located, "Flatfoot Alley" for the police headquarters floor, "Morgue" for the probate courts floor and "Ball and Chain" for the city attorney's criminal division.
